Nursery Seeks Site at Nealon

Representatives of the Menlo-Atherton Cooperative Nursery School were to have met last night with the city recreation commission, to discuss plans for construction of a new, permanent headquarters for the nursery in Nealon Park.

City Manager John R. Johnson explained yesterday that the plan, being promoted by the parents of children now attending sessions at the civic center, might lead to a cooperative development under which the proposed 1200-square-foot structure could be used by the receration department, in addition to youth groups other than the nursery school.

Last night's meeting was announced earlier this month in a bulletin of the Menlo-Atherton chapter of the American Association of University Women, of which the cooperative nursery is a part.

"By the terms under which the city recreation commission allows its lands to be used for recreational purposes, terms under which Little House and Boys Clubs of America operate, this building will be available for community groups when not in use by the school," the bulletin observes.

The nursery school was started eight years ago and has occupied several temporary quarters since that time. For the past two years the nursery school has used the city council chambers building and the adjacent Girl Scout area in the civic center; originally on a "temporary" basis also.

The AAUW bulletin said that the 1200-square-foot proposed building is being designed by Neal Lindtsrom, architect, husband of one of the members of the group. He was to have his plans ready for presentation to the recreation commission last night.

Johnson, meanwhile, pointed out that the recreation department's approval, if given, would be in the nature of an advisory action. Final action would have to be taken by the city council.

Meanwhile, he added, the city has no office space or equipment storage space available at Nealon Park. He said it is possible the recreation commission might seek to have such space included in the current plans, with the city to pay a share of the cost of the building.

Last night's meeting was to be held at the Willow Oaks Park building, which serves some of the functions it is hoped the unit proposed for Nealon Park will be able to provide.

Liquor Hearing Dec. 22

Menlo Park City Manager John R. Johnson Tuesday advisced the city council that the state Alcoholic Beverages Control Board would continue its hearing on a request for an off-sale liquor license at 1209 Willow road on Monday, Dec. 22.

The state hearing opened on Nov. 19, with more than two and one-half hours of testimony being heard from residents of the area, Menlo city officials and other group leaders protested the permit on the basis that it would increase the police problem

Saul Rayow, applicant, is scheduled to speak in his own behalf. He told hearing officers last month that he intended to subpoena San Mateo County Sheriff Earl Whitmore in his behalf.

Vandal Steals, Destroys Bike Of Girl, 10

Somebody who has what Atherton Police Chief Leroy Hubbard describes as "a lousy sense of humor" Saturday evening apparently stole an almost new bicycle owned by a 10-year-old Atherton girl, then left it on the railroad tracks to be run over by a train.

The girl, Ada Rempen, daughter of Mrs. Irene Trianikov of 99 Walnut avenue, said she'd parked the bike in the rear yard of her mother's home at about 5:30 p.m.

Shortly before 10 p.m., Southern Pacific train crewmen reported they'd hit a metal object on the tracks, between Menlo Park and Atherton.

An officer investigated and near the Watkins avenue grade crossing, found the twisted remains of the bicycle which had cost $60.

Atherton police said the girl, who is a fifth grader at Encinal School, had licensed the vehicle, making ownership easy to trace.

High School To Be Host To Debaters

Menlo-Atherton High School Saturday will play host to more than 300 student debaters expected from more than 25 northern California high schools for a tournament which will feature arguments on, "Resolved: That the United States should adopt the essential features of the British system of education."

The tourney, according to speech instructor Ray Somers, will begin at 8 a.m. All students participating are expected to be able to argue either pro or con, in regard to the topic.

Since Menlo-Atherton is the host school, no local students will be participating in the debates, which are expected to continue until 3 p.m .or 4 p.m.

Edwin Whiteway is in charge of arrangements for the program.

NO FORMAL MEETING

There will be no formal program for the Menlo Park Rotary Club at the group's scheduled Dec. 24 meeting, it was announced to members this week. However, the announcement said, members are invited to a roundtable which will replace the regular meeting.

MOSHER TO CONDUCT

Austin Mosher of 1175 Johnson street next Tuesday noon will direct and conduct the annual Christmas musical program for the San Francisco Rotary club, at the Sheraton-Palace hotel in that city.

Study Bond Policy

Menlo Park City council Tuesday night decided to take another look at a proposed bond issue to be proposed next spring for construction of immediate city needs.

Councilman Michael Belangie, during the study session, pointed out that the $600,000 bond issue to be proposed for construction of an underpass at Willow Road will use up almost one-half of the city's annual sales tax revenues for the next 20 years. Said he:

"This will leave us with only $50,000 or more a year to meet needs for capital improvement. Such things as the city police station are needed now. If we continue our present policy of making improvements only from sales tax revenues, we will never catch up."

The councilman noted that the police station office, which was originally used as the Dibble Hospital fire station, has been in operation for 10 years, and that the staff has grown from five officers to 29. He called it completely inadequate."

Other needs of the city as of today are a youth center and a recreation hall.

In previous discussions, the council has estimated that the police station will cost $150,000; the youth center, $15,000, and the recreation hall, $300,000.

Councilman Vaile Andrus said Tuesday, "It has always been repugnant to me to try for anything which will increase taxes, but if we are going to have to have these things, we are going to have to have these things."

Andrus suggested that all possibilities be explored, and that the council come to a final decision the first part of January. He added, 'Frankly, when I realize that the underpass will take 50,000 of our sales tax for the next 20 years, it kind of scares me."

For his part, Councilman Ira Bonde recalled his commitments to keep sales tax revenues for capital improvement program only. Then he added, "We have to consider what other communities, such as Palo Alto, are doing, and even if our tax rate goes to $1 we must keep up with present needs.

Back in Lead:

1-Family Residence Building Gets Big Boost in November

With a new subdivision being developed within the city limits, residential construction boomed ahead last month in Menlo Park, with apartments relegated to second place as to type of building most prevalent here.

Fourteen new homes, with a total valuation of $320,000 were started during November; only three apartment building jobs, with a total of 31 dwelling units and a combined valuation of $169,000, accounted for jobs of that category.

City Building Inspector James D. Steiger pointed out that the new single-family residence development is heaviest in the newly-opened Sharon estate lands which have been annexed to the city.

Though the Sharon lands include some space zoned for apartments, the developers have indicated that they will wait possiby several years before starting construction there, he recalled.

Meanwhile, other projects started during the month of November included 11 residence alteration jobs, with a valuation of $18,175; nine new nonresidences, with a valuation of $78,675, and one residential demolition job, valuation $200.

In all, 43 building permits with a valuation of $587,950 worth of construction was started during the month.

Woodside Plan Topic Tonight

Woodside planning commission will hold its third public hearing tonight on the proposed master plan for the town.

Two previous hearings on the plan have been attended by more than 100 persons, who have shown interest, primarily in traffic routes, and size of home sites.

At a special study session Monday night, commissioners reviewed the road provisions of the plan.

The meeting will be held at the Frontier building, 8 p.m.

Schools to Have Musical Affair

First holiday season musical program to be put on by Menlo Park Elementary School District students will be presented tonight, beginning at 7:30 p.m., at Hillview School.

Featured will be a string ensemble under the direction of Mis Lucie Landen, a 40-voice Christmas chorus under the direction of Lee Hill and a Chamber orchestra under the direction of Norman Cory.

The public is invited to attend.

26 Marching Units Ready For 11 a.m. Parade Here

Hundreds of marchers were this week putting the finishing touches on their plans for participation in the Menlo Park-Atherton Junior Chamber of Commerce's annual "Welcome Santa" parade, to start at 11 a.m. Saturday.

The official event marking the opening of the pre-Christmas season will have as its line of march Santa Cruz avenue, commencing on Johnson street and proceeding east to the entrance of the Camino parking plaza opposite Doyle street.

Parade Chairman Dick Sulloway said that 26 organizations have agreed to have units in the parade. At least two marching bands and possibly three will be included in the roster of participants.

Sulloway added that entries will be judged, as they pass a reviewing stand to be placed midway along the line of march.

Judges are to be Pat Patterson, last year's parade chairman; John Licata, Atherton town councilman and Remington Low, Atherton attorney.

He added that in spite of the expected excellence of all units, Santa Claus is expected to remain the favorite, and hosts of youngsters are expected to be on hand to greet him. A Jaycee-manned truck will distribute candy favors in behalf of St. Nick.

LONG LINEUUP

The units expected to participate and the approximate order in which they will march is as follows:

1. Menlo Park police;
2. Parade Leader Carol Jean Thompson, drum majorette;
3. Color Guard, Menlo-Adobe American Legion Post 828;
4. Menlo - Atherton High School Band;
5. Junior Majorettes, entered by the Ravenswood Recreation Center;
6. Parade Queen;
7. Can-D-Ettes, junior drill team;
8. Menlo - Atherton Junior Women's Club entry;
9. Marine Band (tentative);
10. San Mateo Donettes;
11. Western entry, matched pair mounted unit;
12. Stanford NROTC drill team and color guard;

25. SANTA CLAUS float;
26. Candy truck;
27. Menlo Park police.

It's Saturday:

POLICE ANNUAL BIKE SALE

Police Inspector Howard Schroeder hopes that at least some of the youngsters who come downtown Saturday to witness the city's annual "Welcome Santa" parade will arrive an hour early.

That's because 10 a.m. Saturday is the hour for the police department's annual sale of unclaimed bicycles; there are 39 of them cluttering the back room of the police station in civic center at the present time.

Inspector Schroeder will act as auctioneer.

"Normally things are kind of slow around here on Saturdays," the inspector explained, "but this weekend all off-duty officers and some reserves are being called in, to help with the parade. With the sale besides, we're going to be pretty busy."

The sale is considered a good place at which low-budget families can get bikes for their children, although normally prices are at a level where youngsters themselves can bid effectively.

Legal Eagles Trip On County Line

Lack of action can be interpreted as meaning progress—to one attorney. But another one said it meant nothing at all, and a third this week said it could mean either.

Palo Alto City Attorney John R. Nimocks interpreted a lack of action on the part of the Santa Clara county boundary commission as an assumption that the latter body approves of annexation of 819 acres across the county line.

And, in a heavy fog of legalistic phraseology, San Mateo county's District Attorney Keith Sorenson said Nimocks was right. But, he continued, "It shows that there is no chance that the county boundary line will change. This is only an attempt to change city boundaries."

Menlo Park City Attorney James T. O'Keefe Jr. also had a couple of thoughts on the matter. Said he,

"No action on the request for boundaries approval can be assumed as approval of the application, only if jurisdiction is originally present. It presumes that original jurisdiction exists in the first instance. If there is no original jurisdiction, action or inaction proves nothing."

O'Keefe went on, "Regarding the proposed Palo Alto annexation in San Mateo county, there is no legal precedent authorizing the action. I am in thorough accord with the position taken by the San Mateo county District Attorney."

Lack of action on the annexation was decided Monday of this week by members of the Santa Clara Boundaries Commission, on the advice of Santa Clara County Counsel Spencer Wiliams.

Map and legal description of the Palo Alto owned properties had been filed with both the San Mateo and Santa Clara boundaries commission for technical review. At its hearing last month, the San Mateo commission had found the legal description in order, but had voted against the annexation as being a move across county lines for which there is no "legal authority."

Santa Clara's county counsel Williams had advised the boundary commission there that inasmuch as the property in question is not in Santa Clara county, it is "not within its jurisdiction to pass on (any part of) the proposal."

John R. Nimocks, Palo Alto city attorney, refused yesterdayt to consider the county opinion as a contradiction to his own. He has previously taken the legal position that only property owners have a right to protest the cross-county annexation. Said Nimocks,

"If the county boundary commission fails to pass on it within 20 days, it is legally assumed that the commission approves the annexation. Palo Alto can then proceed."

In final legaslistic whirlwind, San Mateo County District Attorney had this to say on the entire subject.

"It doesn't matter even if both boundary commissions disapprove the annexation. Their opinion is merely advisory, and is concerned only with the definiteness and certainty of the boundaries. The city can go right ahead anyway."

Here Tuesday:

School Trustees Answer Charge Of 'Holding' '55 Bond Funds

Menlo Park School District trustees this week urged residents to attend a Dec. 10 meeting at which a proposed bond issue is to be discussed, after being challenged Tuesday by residents who alleged,

1. "Some people" feel that money from the district's 1955 bond issue was held back, and hasn't been spent in the manner specified when that measure was before the voters;

2. What the district needs is a basic school; additional items which might be included in a proposed bond issue would imperil it.

The first statement was made by Dr. Glen B. Hayden, 44 Inglewood lane in Atherton. He said that he had been under the impression the school district planned to build 14 classrooms on existing sites, when the board asked passage of the $387,000 measure three years ago.

School trustees denied that this was the exact wording; rather, they said—and referred to the 1955 bond issue motion to back it up—the bond issue of that date was intended to build 14 classrooms but adding only seven of these at existing school sites while holding money back to purchase another site, putting the remaining classrooms there.

The second statement was made by John Tate, 51 Toyon road. He said he favored a bond issue sufficient to cover the cost of a "basic school" at Edge and Ringwood roads, but said he felt "additions," such as libraries, a multi-use room and small testing rooms proposed for other schools in the district might imperil the issue's chance of passage.

ALTERNATIVE

He suggested that the "basic" Laurel school be considered as one bond issue, while the other proposed additions could be reserved for a second.

Board Chairman William Platt said that the matter of what, if anything, to add at the district's present four permanent schools is still under discussion.

"The next three meetings are key meetings," he said, in referring to the timetable for setting up the issue.

A PTA representative in the audience added that it was indicated by the success of the Sequoia High School District's bond issue earlier this year that a bond issue which had something in it for all parts of the school district might get a better reception from all voters.

The board has set as "basic minimums" for all schools the establisment of suitable libraries, two small conference-testing rooms, and a multi-use room, in addition to adequate classrooms, and in addition to music rooms and science rooms at seventh and eighth grade schools.

Homes-for-Old Project Gets High Interest

Letters and other indications of high interest in the public hearing on the Peninsula Volunteers' proposal to construct a housing development for senior citizens at 1156 Santa Cruz avenue, to be held Monday before the city planning comission.

City Planner Richard Gamble said yesterday the interest shown has encouraged him to begin a study of standards which would encourage construction of housing for the elderly, and possible criteria for a proper zoning law amendment for such units.

Meanwhile, David Botsford, 1105 San Mateo drive, one of the opponents to the proposal, said yesterday that petitions signed by more than 200 area residents had been circulated and will be presented at the meeting.

Admiral Ransom K. Davis, 1140 San Mateo drive, has been heading a committe circulating the petitions.

REPAIRS COMPLETE

Repairs on storm damages at Sand Hill bridge have been completed, and will be reported to the city council next Tuesday for final acceptance, according to City Manager John R. Johnson.

CHRISTMAS PARTY

Sertoma Club of Menlo Park has set Dec. 12 as date for the service club's Christmas party, to be held this year at the home of Dr. Syd Smith, in Palo Alto.

Special, Long Hours Set At Postoffice

Anticipating heavy mail during the remainder of the pre-Christmas season, Postmaster Harry B. Morey this week announced a special schedule of hours to go into effect at the local facility during the next few days.

The postoffice department, he added, is also negotiating for rental of a temporary branch at Crane street and Santa Cruz avenue, which will provide regular postal service during the weeks ahead and relieve the work load at the regular postoffice, 560 Oak Grove avenue.

From Dec. 11 to Dec. 19 the postoffice will be open weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m.; on the Saturdays, Dec. 13 and Dec. 20, it will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sundays, Dec. 14 and Dec. 20, it will be open from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Because of the shortage of space, the local office is operating its parcel post deliveries out of temporary quarters at 2553 Middlefield road in Redwood City, Morey said. No building large enough to handle the extra traffic was available in Menlo Park.

For those who hadn't considered it to date, Postmaster Morey added, "We should all mail our Christmas parcels early.

"Out of state mails should be on their way before Dec. 10."

New Friends Of Recorder Now Total 450

As of noon yesterday, new subscribers to the Menlo Park Recorder, during the local NEWSpaper's current circulation campaign, had swelled to 450.

"We are certainly happy to welcome these new friends," commented Recorder publisher Clarence A. "Cab" Burley. "We hope they enjoy the extra local news coverage the Recorder brings them, and we hope, too, that they will help us do an even better job.

"The people of this area are the ones we are writing writing about. Besides reading the news about their neighbors, we want all our readers to remember they, too, are news. We want them to tell us the things they themselves are doing."

With two weeks still to go in the newspaper's special distribution effort, Burley predicted that the campaign would conclude showing a "substantial" increase in its subscriber list.

For the past five issues, Recorder carrier boys have been asked to distribute the weekly paper to every home on their routes, introducing it to many area residents who previously had been familiar only with the Buy Word, the shopping publication that contains much of the advertising, but very little of the local news provided by the Recorder.

During the last two and a half weeks, office staffers have been contacting those who have not already subscribed.

To enter your own subscription, telephone DA 6-5580 today. The $3 yearly fee will carry you through all of 1959.

Police to Meet With Retailers

Retailers of all of Menlo Park have been invited to hear law enforcement officers discuss check passing, shoplifting and other misdemeanors common during the Christmas season, at a meeting set for 8 a.m. next Tuesday.

The session, announced by Bob Clifford, chairman of the retail council, will be over before 9 a.m., so all stores can open at their usual hour. It will be held at the American Trust Co. office at 735 Santa Cruz avenue.

Representatives of the Menlo Park police department will be joined by a representative of the district attorney's office, in the presentation.

Employees as well as store proprietors are invited to attend.

Officer Tells:

'HOW TO COOL HOT COFFEE'

Officer Robert Malone of the Menlo Park police still hasn't finished a cup of coffee he started to drink last Friday morning.

The officer had stopped his patrol car for an authorized short stop at the Grubstage, 888 El Camino Real, and had ordered a cup of the beverage. At 9:24 a.m., somebody noticed that the ventilator of the establishment wasn't carrying away all the smoke it was generating.

Officer Malone hustled outside and radioed the fire department. He then stationed himself on the highway in front of the restaurant, directing traffic as firemen began to arrive.

Menlo Park Fire District Chief George Carter said that the blaze was apparently started by grease in the flue above the restaurant's barbecue pits. Heat generated was so intense that it ignited the roof structure, he added.

Although damage to the building was minor, smoke damage was general throughout the building.

And meanwhile, Officer Malone's cup of coffee became a casualty.

Cities Discuss New Truck Route

Possibility of opening up a special trucking route through the cities of Redwood City, San Carlos and the Town of Woodside was discussed Tuesday afternoon at a joint meeting of the cities' officials.

Redwood City council will determine next Monday whether or not it will yield a truck route on Edgewood road and on Alameda de las Pulgas to just north of the city limits. If this is approved, San Carlos will be confronted with a problem of establishing a truck route through its city.

Woodside will then have the problem of opening up Canada

Boys' Club Inaugural Is Next Week

Menlo Park, civic and community leaders are being invited this week to attend a special dinner at Ramor Oaks next Wednesday night for the incorporation of the Boys Club of Menlo Park.

Campaign for a Boys Club to be built at Ivy drive and Market place is more than a year old and has been spearheaded by Youth Haven. Menlo Park city council Tuesday authorized City Attorney James T. O'Keefe to complete detail arrangements for leasing the city-owned property to the club, pending incorporation.

Next stop, according to Youth Haven leaders, is formation of an incorporated organization to sponsor the club. Stanley Brown reports that membership of the committee is partially complete and anticipates that a roster will be completed Wednesday night.

Organizations have already volunteered to donate labor and landscaping for the building future building, according to Brown.

Both Councilman Guy Plaisted and Ira Bonde indicated Tuesday that they will attend the dinner next week.

Bikes Sell Well; Hubcaps Don't

Atherton police department's annual Saturday sale of unclaimed items was declared a success, with 11 bicycles and four hubcaps going for a total price of $106.75.

Auctioneer-Police Chief Leroy Hubbard said the department still has an assortment of hubcaps on hand; the four that were sold were of a matching set and went for $1.

The bikes made up the remainder of the total; the money taken in by the police department indicated, Chief Hubbard said, that the selling price was held low enough so younger prospective buyers had a chance to bid, too.

Annex to Menlo:

Oak Court Area Residents To Be Out of Police District

Homeowners in approximately 50 acres of the Oak Court triangle area will escape taxation as part of the new county service area for East Palo Alto, according to present anticipations.

Annexation of the area, between Woodland avenue, Oak Court, Elliott drive and Menalto avenue, is subject to a final vote of the people on Dec. 30. No protests, either oral or written have been filed with the City of Menlo Park to date.

Last week at a hearing before the county board of supervisors, City Attorney James O'Keefe Jr., asked that the Oak Court area be excluded from the boundaries of the new district.

The formal request is more a technicality than otherwise, inasmuch as laws governing the special district provide that an area annexed to a city or incorporated in itself is automatically withdrawn, according to District Attorney Keith Sorenson.

Another request for exclusion from the policing district was filed by the City of Palo Alto, which has initiated an unprecedented attempt to annex across county lines, some 819 acres which it owns at the southern end of San Mateo County.

The supervisors will rule next Tuesday on boundaries of the district, as well as the new tax rate. Owners asking exclusion, in addition to Menlo Park and Palo Alto, are the Leslie Salt and Ideal Cement companies, Hiller Aircraft Corp., and the City and County of San Francisco.

Belangie Calls For Two-City Rec Planning

Menlo Park City Councilman Michael Belangie Tuesday proposed that study be made immediately for joint operation of a recreation program at the Silas Palmer estate in Atherton, under the Menlo-Atherton Adult Recreation program.

He pointed out that destruction of the old mansion by fire Monday night indicated that the site was no longer, economicaly, usable under terms of the will of the late Mrs. Olive Holbrook Palmer whereby her husband would remain in occupancy as long as he lived, with the property then being turned over to the city later for a park.

Earlier this week, the Atherton Town Council had hired the consulting firm of Louis J. Kroeger and Associates to make a report on recreational needs of the town.

Part of the survey was to be a recommendation on what should be done with the 22-acre estate on 250 Watkins avenue when it becomes a city park.

Hearings Slated On Card Rooms

San Mateo County Board of Supervisors will hold hearings on Tuesday, Dec. 23, at 10 o'clock, on two separate applications for cardrooms in the East Palo Alto area.

Application was filed last week by Cleveland Green, of 30 Roan place, Woodside, for a cardroom at 1218 Willow road, Menlo Park. Green asks for two tables and a poolroom.

The second application was filed by Eugene H. Bowen, 3245 Bryant street, Palo Alto, for 2393 University avenue. Bowen also asks for two tables and a poolroom.

'American Christmas':

Las Lomitas District Tells Plan for Dec. 17 Yule Rites

"American Christmases" will be the theme of the Las Lomitas School Christmas program, to be presented Dec. 17 at the Ladera School multi-use room, it was announced this week.

Music for Christmas, in the American-English-speaking tradition, will be featured as background for tableaux and pantomime; Mrs. Neva Duncan has been in charge of arrangements for the latter.

The tableaux will include a traditional "Watch Night service in a South Carolina meeting house." This will memorialize a traditional service which in actual usage started in early evening, and continued until near morning.

Members of the 65 - voice glee club, made up of fifth and sixth grade boys and girls, will sing "Holy Babe," "Mary Had a Baby," "Go Tell It on the Mountain," "Rise Up Shepherd and Follow," and other music from the American heritage. Mrs. Mary D'Anna is in charge of the musical portions of the program.

Second portion of the program will feature as its theme "An American Christmas as of Today" and will feature music including, primarily, music of other western civilizations that has been adopted for use in the United States.

Jerry Cooper will lead the orchestra which will accompany the singers in presenting some of the better-known works and traditional carols.

EVENING BRIDGE section of the Menertons will meet at the home of Mrs. Robert Rockwell, 26475 Ascension avenue, Los Altos Hills, on December 11.

Palmer Estate Fire Marked End of Another Landmark

What was an area landmark since it was built in 1870 and the central attraction of one of Atherton's grand estates was destroyed early Tuesday, when fire of undetermined origin gutted the dwelling house at the Silas Palmer estate, 250 Watkins avenue.

The fate of the property as a whole has not yet been settled: Mrs. Palmer, who was a daughter of the buildee and who was owner of the 22-acre development, had bequeathed the land to the town of Atherton, if the town desires it, after her husband no longer occupies it.

The estate, it was specified, should be developed as a public park; the town of Atherton is currently conducting a survey to determine recreational needs of the community.

The fire, which had involved the entire building by the time it was detected, destroyed about 90 per cent of the 2½-story structure. Fire District Chief George Carter said the remainder would have to be torn down.

The blaze was first reported at 1:57 a.m. by Mrs. William Tevis, 177 Burns avenue, as she approached her home after leaving a train at the Atherton station.

She called Atherton police and the fire department, she reported; then she and her husband went to the estate and aroused its caretaker, who lives in another building on the grounds.

It was determined that no lives were in danger, since Palmer, 85, who spends his weekends at the Watkins avenue address, was in San Francisco.

FIREMEN RESPOND

Eleven on-duty firemen and 46 off duty men, of the district's total complement of 75, responded to the alarm. Two full assignments of equipment, including two pumping engines and two rescue squad trucks, were dispatched.

First units were returned to stations at 4:41 a.m., indicating two hours, 44 minutes were required to extinguish the flames consuming the old, wood frame structure.

The home, owned by the Holbrook familoy since it was built, was occupied by Mrs. Palmer during her entire life; she was born there, married there, and died there, at the age of 80, last March 28.

Mr. and Mrs. Palmer observed their Golden Wedding anniversary at the estate, named Elmwood, in 1955.

In keeping with the pattern of estates established in this area in the late 1800's, Elmwood was largely self-sustaining, being provided with orchards and pasturage for horses and cows. A few chickens were maintained until a few years ago.

It was even provided with a small, "chemical" fire cart, designed to be pulled by hand.

The cart, ironically, was in an enclosure under the back porch, in one of the last damaged portions of the house.

Palmer was contacted at his San Francisco home shortly after the blaze was discovered. He arrived by chauffeur-driven auto at about 3:30 a.m., to confer with Chief Carter.

He told Carter that the building was insured.

The Victorian Mansion . . .

. . . Which made a showplace of the Silas Palmer estate at 250 Watkins avenue provided the fuel for the spectacular blaze which destroyed it early Tuesday, in spite of the best efforts of nearly 50 firemen who found the building already enveloped in flames when they were called at 1:57 a.m. Cause of the fire was still being investigated early this week; destroyed along with the landmark were its furnishings and a collection of rare books.

Jail Is Place To Think Over Faulty Tactics

William Lengyel, 41, retired navy man who resides in Los Altos, last Friday was given time to think over a trio of tactical blunders.

His first consisted, according to police, of driving while intoxicated.

His second error, reports said, consisted of getting into an accident on El Camino Real at Oak Grove avenue, within sight of Sergeant Edgar Pabalis.

His third mistake consistec of taking three jabs at the sergeant, while awaiting booking at the San Mateo county jail. Sergeant Pabalis, 41, is an ex boxer.

The roof of this whole structure of mischance started to cave in at 4:17 p.m. last Friday when Lengyel's northbound car struck the rear of one operated by Maxine Walber, 46 of Redwood City. Mrs. Walber had stopped in response to the signal.

Damage, police said, was minor; nobody was injured.

Sergeant Pabalis took charge of the suspect and escorted him jailward.

In his report, Sergeant Pabalis said Lengyel "was subdued" after his outburst in the lobby of the bastille.

Bail was set at $525.

As We See It:

Palo Alto's Annexation Plan Points Way to Lots of Trouble

Palo Alto's current effort to annex a portion of San Mateo county is something of a new high in municipal greed for territory, but it's nothing compared with what can happen if a precedent is set which allows annexations across county lines.

Palo Alto's city council has had lots of experience at annexing territory; they and their brethren in Los Altos, Mountain View, Sunnyvale, Santa Clara, and San Jose have managed to make the political map of northern Santa Clara county look like a jigsaw puzzle created by a committee of not very purposeful schizoids.

The excuses these august bodies give when they annex another section of newly-paved street, a right of way a couple of miles long to an intersection where lots of traffic tickets are handed out, a long narrow subdivision extending at right angles to existing city boundaries or any other block of territory are usually the same:

"We want to broaden our tax base," they say, or "we don't want our city surrounded by the next one over," or "the people in that subdivision have requested the municipal services which only we are in a position to give."

The unincorporated land in northern Santa Clara county is limited nowadays; the grasping, wheedling and angling for territory has been going on since 1946.

Bear in mind also that Palo Alto owns all its utilities; revenues from these as well as a broader tax base provide another stimulus for bigger, grander land-getting schemes.

Thus Palo Alto, to further its expansionist designs, has seized on the supposition that some 819 acres of uninhabited, city-owned land which is in San Mateo county might be included in a police district as an excuse for attempting a cross-boundary annexation.

So that community's administration has come up with the new line, "We don't feel that we should be forced to pay taxes to another political agency in another county. We can police our territory ourselves."

The fact of the annexation attempt doesn't amount to much. What does amount to something is the legal precedent that might be set.

For instance, San Francisco water department owns pipe lines all the way to Yosemite. They're largely uninhabited, except for fish. That metropolis could, according to the thinking currently motivating Palo Alto, include its right of way to the Sierras in its corporate limits.

The city of Los Angeles could — and probably would — decide in the same manner as Palo Alto that "it should protect itself from having to pay taxes to other political subdivisions" and annex the territory occupied by its water system. This extends to Bishop, east of the Sierras and geographically north of Bakersfield.

And assuming the courts, in their wisdom, decide to allow such cross-boundary annexations of territory: What, precisely, has been accomplished?

Nothing. A few top city officials will ask for higher pay, citing the fact that they administer the affairs of more square miles than the next guy. Councilmen of expansionist communities will be able to brag about more service to more territory, but it's been noticed that mere bigness doesn't guarantee efficiency so the tax rate won't benefit. And ultimately, when inhabited lands become the object of still more annexations, the elected representatives who are supposed to govern the town will be removed a little farther from the voters, since the elected body will have to remain small to retain any kind of efficiency at all, while the number of voters will increase as more territory is taken in.

Something Positive Needed To Meet Youth Problems

Much has been said in the past couple of weeks about "party crashing," "gang fights," and other amusements of the young which seem, somehow, to have gone beyond the bounds of decent restraint, good sense, or legality in a couple of instances here on the Peninsula.

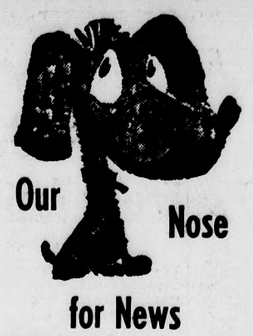

Currently, the old repressive method is all that's being applied to the problem: Police officers have issued warnings and they mean what they say.

But for the long pull, wouldn't it be better to start looking for a more positive approach? Shouldn't something be done which would not be in the form of a restraint, but more of a solution?

Some positive action aimed at creation of youth centers, or similar facilities, should be taken soon.

Even so, these facilities won't by themselves eliminate the problems of juvenile hoodlumism. The right to join or "belong" also implies the right ot stay aloof from any social group. Furthermore, young folks' appetites and the goodies bought and paid for by well meaning, older folks aren't always to the same taste.

In the meantime, we should look a little closer to home, possibly into the home for an answer to the problem. Only people with a mediocre regard for privacy, the value of property, the activities of others and a careless disregard for their own dignity are apt to wantonly destroy another's property or goods, or start a fight at a party to which they are not invited. Someone, somewhere along the line, must have fallen down on the job of training them.

for News

TELLS US:

It really is a holiday season.

City Attorney James O'Keefe represented the city at the hearing before the county board of supervisors on the formation of a policing district in the East Palo Alto area.

After requesting the county to exclude the Oak Grove triangle area (scheduled for annexation to Menlo Park), from the new district, O'Keefe says he told the supervisors:

"I'm representing 28,000 good souls in Menlo Park and we're not mad at anybody."

* * *

The law of averages must be working overtime in the Menlo Park-Atherton area.

October 31 report of enrollment at Menlo-Atherton High School, according to Principal Nicholas Nugent, showed 1033 girls and 1033 boys.

* * *

Ennio Ciolli, principal of Laurel School, sees one thing that'll be lost when a new school is constructed at Edge and Ringwood roads.

Those broad playfields and that swimming pool in adjacent Burgess Park aren't apt to be duplicated at the new site.

And from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, San Mateo, comes this word of advice to the young:

"A child must be unmarried to be eligible for disabled child's benefits under social security."

Municipal Report:

Planning for Long Term Means Guessing Where Growth Will Go

Planning isn't just a short-range thing. It has its long-range aspects; Menlo Park, along with all other communities in the fast developing Pacific Coast region, can expect new growth for years. In fact, the time when both the business and apartment house zones of the city will have to be expanded may not be too far off.

City Planner Richard Gamble, though relatively new to the official community here, has already made some observations under this head.

"We have a problem in store for us in future growth of the central business district," he said recently, "because the present business district is pretty well surrounded by apartment buildings of relatively high value. Most of them are modern and in good repair."

"This may lead," Gamble said he felt, "to future development in some other direction, such as the development of a new shopping and office area fronting on El Camino Real between the present Central district and San Francisquito Creek."

Building of an underpass connecting Willow road with El Camino Real probably won't have too much to do with development along the highway, he adds.

"There would probably be a tremendous impact on future development plans if Willow and Sand Hill roads were to be linked, in the manner which the state has indicated it favors," he observed, however.

"If such a freeway is built, it would tend to encourage thoughts of an extensive office development along it."

Why is it necessary that such future developments be planned, rather than "just happen" as they used to? Gamble can explain this, too.

"Old-fashioned, helter skelter development is over as soon as you have competition with someone who can develop a large, unobstructed tract of land, as Stanford University has."

"The only thing you can do in case a neighbor has built a better mousetrap, is to build a better, better mousetrap."

How fast the present business district will be occupied to capacity is another problem.

One thing he expected to see built, said Gamble, hasn't put in an appearance. That's the large office building with several suites. Most present office buildings in downtown Menlo Park are of smaller size; the big offices in Linfield Oaks professional - administrative zone have one tenant only, each.

The effect which such buildings could have on future development in the downtown area is pretty obvious: office workers use parking space; more offstreet parking space is an almost constant cry of retailers and other businessmen operating in the city's downtown area.

These problems will be coming up at some indefinite time in the future and it's the function of planning, Gamble says, to start thinking of solutions now.

Five from Area At Eagle Dinner

Five area Eagle Scouts were among those expected to attend last night's fifth annual Eagle Scout dinner for San Mateo county, held at the Villa hotel in San Mateo.

Those expected to attend from the Live Oak District were Richard Spencer Jr., Troop 234 of Portola Valley; Dean Townsend of Troop 199, Atherton; Roger Greenham, Troop 107; Richard Byrne, Troop 139; Dettlev Lange, Post 166 and John Proctor, Post 223, all of Menlo Park.

Sponsoring the dinner were a group of business and professional leaders from all parts of the county. W. Palmer III, vice president of W. P. Fuller & Co., was chairman for the affair.

Not Right Law, Says the Judge

Lester Green, 31-year-old machinist arrested here two weeks ago on charges of drunken driving when observed proceeding in an erratic manner aboard a bicycle, was at least partially exonerated in South San Mateo County Municipal Court last week.

Judge E. J. Ryan ruled that he didn't see where a bicycle fell under the provisions of the state vehicle code and changed the charge to "drunk in public." Green was found guilty of the latter.

Green, who resides at 530 Oak Grove avenue, said at the time of his arrest that he'd taken to bicycling because his driver's license had been suspended on account of previous citations.

Walter:

CHALLENGES

Walter the Weathermouse, a pensive expression o'erspreading his visage, and a grammar book open in his paw, wandered musing into the office this week and announced:

"I have you trapped. You claim to be a grammarian of sorts, but can you explain to me why, if the plural of 'mouse' is 'mice,' the plural of 'house' isn't 'hice'?"

CWS to Sell Pipes to City

California Water Service Company has been granted permission to sell its installations in Bohannon Industrial Park east of Bayshore Freeway to the City of Menlo Park.

Permission was granted last week by the Public Utilities Commission; the water system will be operated, after the actual transfer, by the city water department.

The privately-owned utility company made some installations in the area, during the first part of its development. At the time, the Industrial Park was not within the city limits.

The permit was granted after a Nov. 25 hearing

County Comment:

Consolidated May Yet Prove Key to Lower Operating Costs

By FLOYD M. McCUE
Editor and Publisher, Redwood City Star-Advertiser

From time to time we hear talk of consolidating local governments as a means of cutting down the load for county taxpayers.

Only a few weeks ago we reprinted a few quotes made by a speaker at the annual meeting of the California Supervisor Association calling for city and county governments uniting as a single unit as a means of saving money and providing better service. We have no figures to prove that these advantages would follow if, for instance, unified San Mateo county were to become a reality.

All things being equal, it should be easily proved that consolidation into one government should be beneficial. We can't take San Francisco as a good example, however, as the taxes keep climbing in the city and average higher than in the incorporated cities in San Mateo county.

The total rates, according to figures published by the San Mateo County Development Association, show Burlingame's $7.61-$7.62 rate as the lowest in the county. The unincorporated areas vary with rates between $4.11 and $9.59 —the latter figure the highest in the county and comes in the Ravenswood School area.

Do the services of police departments and the sheriff's office overlap? Could we save by having the county assessor do all the estimating for the entire county, and the tax collector make all the collections? Would a single, enlarged board of supervisors, probably elected on a zone basis, give us more economical government?

These questions have no answers at this time and the officials of the two branches of government will have different stories to telf if the discussions ever become serious.

The discussion of lower tax rates comes to the front now that the deadline for first installments is just around the corner. It would be enlightening for ALL taxpayers to study the rate schedule at the top of their county tax bills to see where the money goes. For the writer's home property in San Carlos we find that the county government actually takes only 30 per cent plus of our total bill. Where does the balance of a total rate of $6.8974 go?

With only varying figures for the elementary school districts, the tax rate index will show these assessments for all areas in the south county: .0092 for air pollution control, .0170 for the rapid transit district, .2394 for Junior College, .2270 for the Sequoia Hospital, .0176 for mosquito control, .098 for library, and .05 for the new garbage and refuse disposal district.

The Sequoia High School collects $1.5870 for operations and maintenance and .2650 for bond retirement. These two in themselves almost total the county tax rate. On top of that we have (in San Carlos) $2.00 for the elementary schools, plus .2130 for bond retirements and .2660 to pay off state school loans.

We think these figures clearly show that our county government is actually not the dollar-consuming hog that we picture it to be. The rate is one of the lowest in the state for government itself and the school taxes are something of our own doing—or in other words what the people made known through the ballot that they wanted. We have no kick with that. But while speaking of consolidating taxing agencies, we are not surprised that the school district boards are rapidly going on record against placing a high and grade school consolidation measure before the voters.

The final blow came when the Sequoia trustees voted against the move. There was no talk tax of savings or better curriculums: merely that each board wants to keep its own identity . Some day this will come to pass, probably all three areas in the south county. One for San Carlos-Belmont, Redwood City and environs, and the Menlo Park-East Palo Alto section. We honestly think such a move would improve our schools and result in tax savings but we have no figures to back it up.

Speaking of our county costs, we notice that Supervisor Thomas J. Callan of Daly City has demanded a Cadillac sedan for use of the board, with a chauffeur no less. Before you blow your top, however, let us point out that EACH member of the board is entitled to a county car for his own use under charter rules.

No board member enjoys this luxury but each draws mileage for his car. We agree with Callan when he says this county is a piker. Take a walk around by the main gate at Kezar stadium after a 49er game and watch the official city Cadillacs roll by—with chauffers. Our board members agreed that it was time they had a car for their joint use, but they shy away from the idea of a personal driver.

Even if it's a Cadillac with driver we don't think you'll notice it too much on your tax bill, although it does sound a little bit foolish.

Recall Filed At City Council Meet

The files of the Menlo Park Recorder reveal that, 30 years ago this week, the following items, here reproduced exactly as first published, were news in the young community:

December 7, 1928:

When the meeting of the city council was called to order by Mayor Harry Weeden at 8:10 Tuesday evening last all members were in their places and an audience which packed the house and put room at a premium was present. One and all seemed to be looking forward to a display of fireworks, and no one was disappointed, although the display came from an unlooked-for source.

Just after the meeting was called to order the much talked of "Recall" petition was filed with City Clerk Fannie Kurtz by Kenneth Martin, T. B. Hunnell and Carl Lindquist, all of whom left the City Hall as soon as their business had been accomplished.

There were 232 names on the petition.

Before the Mayor could call for the reading of the minutes City Clerk Fannie Kurtz, who has been very ill for some time and who by good rights should have been at home, stepped before the large audience and asked for the attention of those present stating she had been grossly insulted by the Mayor and Councilman Dale by being accused of malfeasance in office, by trying to secure the payment of a bill the second time.

Joe's Picture Gets the Heave

November 26, 1948:

You never know what you'll find in an old storeplace.

City Manager C. L. Longson so discovered a couple of days ago when the old vault in the city hall was being cleaned out in preparation for next month's move to the new civic center.

Longson said he couldn't imagine how what he found came to be there in the first place. He added firmly that it won't be moved along with other city belongings. In fact, its fate may be ignominious . . .

It was an oil portrait of Josef Stalin.

Student Wins In Moot Court

Clarence J. Ferrari, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Ferrari of 77 Marsh road in Atherton, was named a runner-up in the seventh annual Marion Rice Kirkwood Moot Court Competition at Stanford University law school.

In a mythical case, Ferrari and his partner argued in behalf of the government, charging a fictitious corporation with a violation of federal law by allegedly contributing to a television show featuring a U.S. Senator campaigning for re-election. The two third-year law students received $25 prizes.

District Court Judge Louis E. Goodman of Atherton was one of three jurists who heard the case.

Card Parties Set by K. of C.

St. Denis Council, Knights of Columbus of Menlo Park will stage the first of a series of three card parties at the Women's Club Hall on Bay road in East Palo Alto on Saturday evening, Dec. 6.

An admission charge of 50 cents per person is being made. Whist players are invited to attend. Games will start promptly at 8:15 p.m.

The Readers Speak:

A Word of Sympathy

Editor, the Recorder:

Tuesday morning, a tragic fire destroyed the home of one of the area's residents. The home occupied by Silas Palmer, 250 Watkins avenue, was the victim of the flames.

More impressive than the fire itself, however, is the complete indifference, nay, ghoulishness, so far displayed in discussion of what will become of the estate now.

In the daily newspapers, I have read and in conversations, I have heard recapitulations of the former Mrs. Palmer's will, under which she deeded the property to Atherton when her husband no longer uses it.

The house is burned down; the estate is no longer useful as a residence for Mr. Palmer. Mr. Palmer's wife of more than 50 years died this spring; on Tuesday, the home they shared went also.

But from what I can gather, nobody is really concerned about Mr. Palmer, his feelings or the tragedies that have him.

The Recorder always welcomes letters from its readers on any subject of public interest. Within the limitations of available space, all such letters will be published as received so long as they do not violate decency and good taste and provided they are signed.

The concern seems to be, "how soon can the public grab off this choice piece of land for some other use?"

To those area petty politicians, recreation boosters, and the like who urge immediate action, I would urge at least a nod in the direction of respect, decency and sympathy. And through these columns I should like to point out that a happy home is a sort of shrine; that as Mr. and Mrs. Palmer's home was shared by them for 53 years, it probably falls into the category; that as such, it's loss should be mourned by the community.

'People Misunderstand Heart Disease,' Dr. Brumm Says

"A great many people apparently misinterpret and accept without equivocation almost anything they hear about heart disease," Dr. Harold J. Brumm, Menlo Park, told Kiwanis club members at Ramo Oaks last week. "Fortunately the public information programs of the American Heart Association and the San Mateo County Heart Association in our own area are dispelling many of these old wives' false hoods."

Speaking on the businessman and his heart, Dr. Brumm highlighted the importance of emotions in organic heart disease. "The businessman who takes a more outgoing, less self-centered, less anxious, more friendly, less irritable, more tolerant attitude towards others, definitely protects his heart from the adverse effect of destructive emotional experiences," he said.

CHIT-CHAT and sewing section of the Newcomers will meet at the home of Mrs. Stuart, 10 East Creek place, Menlo Park, on Tuesday, November 25, at 1 p.m.

Lyn Belcher, 10, Opens Pony Business

Ten-year-old Lyn Belcher went back to school today in Atherton after receiving a shipment of ten Welsh ponies from England that will put her in business as the half owner of a brand new pony breeding venture.

Lyn and her mother, Mrs. H. Holbrook Belcher, 82 Belbrook way, Atherton, will put on the market early next year from Wooden Valley Ranch at Napa colts foaled by Welsh pony mares with a Morgan horse sire.

The ponies arrived yesterday at San Francisco aboard the freighter Loch Gowan after a four-week voyage from London.

Lyn, about as thrilled as a 10-year-old can be, climbed aboard to see her ponies first in their deck-stalls. With her —also excused from school for the occasion—was a classmate and close friend, Priscilla Senn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Senn of Atherton.

The unloading caught the fancy of passengers, crewmen and stevedores as the ponies, shaggy in their winter coats, were led to waiting vans.

Lyn has two with her for the winter, to be stabled at the Menlo Circus club. The others were hauled to the ranch to inaugurate the new enterprise to be known as Welmore Ponies.

The first colts will be born early next year. Seven mares have been bred to Zorro, an eight-year-old Morgan stallion purchased from Ward Walkup, who used him as a personal mount on trails in the Woodside area.

Also in the shipment were two fillies and a four-year-old purebred grey Welsh pony stallion with the colorful name, Fayre Noggin.

The aim of the new cross breeding is to produce "the ideal show pony for children eight to eighteen," according to Mrs. Belcher.

Natwick Urges TB Seal Buying

San Mateo County residents have been aiding the scientific research behind the development and testing of a promising new anti-tuberculosis vaccine which was reported this week by scientists in Chapel Hill, North Carolina.

Warren Natwick, Menlo Park Christmas Seal chairman said today that the North Carolina research project headed by Doctor H. Stuart Willis of the North Carolina Sanatorium System is one of 38 scientific studies being supported by the National Tuberculosis Association from Christmas Seal funds provided by local TB Associations.

Doctor Willis and his associates reported that seven years of tests with animals and humans indicated that their new vaccine, R-1, is safe and reasonably effective. However they pointed out that six years more of testing is required.

Stubborn Fire Takes 5 Hours

Menlo Park Fire District firemen Monday spent more than five hours whipping a stubborn rubbish fire, preventing it from doing any serious damage.

The blaze was discovered at 1:07 a.m. at the Hub-Pacific Construction Co. corporation yard, 3637 Haven avenue. Involved were boards and other stacked wood, firemen said.

The pile, they added, had to be demolished before the flames could be totally controlled.

Only damage was minor scorching of a large tractor parked nearby.

New Realtor President Tells Importance of Trade Purpose

The Menlo Park-Atherton Board of Realtors is destined to play an increasingly more active role in community affairs, according to Ron Ferguson, newly elected president of the Realtors.

Ferguson, elected Monday at the Realtor's monthly luncheon meeting, characterized the Realtor as the "key citizen" in the community.

"What person has a greater stake in the community than the Realtor? The Realtor is vitally concerned with every aspect of communnity life including government, schools, planning, taxes, business, etc. Through his interest and knowledge of community activities, the Realtor is in an ideal position to contribute to the sound development of the Menlo Park-Atherton area," Ferguson told the group.

Ferguson said these increased contributions are being made individually as well as through the collective effort of the Board of Realtors. He outlined a program of closer cooperation with the city governments, chamber of commerce, school boards and other groups.

Elected with Ferguson were Ben G. Holland, vice-president, Florence Lynch, secretary-treasurer, and directors Albert Crosby, John Noelke and Donald Ross.

Outgoing president Fred Ballenitne summarized the year's progress.

Highlights of the year, according to Ballentine, were expansion of the Board's jurisdictional territory to Skyline boulevard, sales volume of nearly $10 million through Multiple Listing Service, greater public understanding of the Realtor through enforcement of the Code of Ethics and an active public relations program and more active participation in Board activities by salesmen.

The Atherton Baptist Fellowship, organized two months ago, has now started a weekly Prayer and Bible Study meeting. The group meets each Wednesday night at 7:30 p.m. at the home of the pastor, Rev. Robert Wheaton, 1151 Sherman avenue, Menlo Park.

Boy, 5, Candle Combine to Set $2500 Fire Here

A fire apparently started by a five-year-old boy who was experimenting with matches and a candle in a closet, last week resulted in an estimated $2500 damage at the Heather S. Wheeler home at 775 17th avenue, firemen report.

The blaze was reported at 5:51 p.m. Nov. 25. Mrs. Wheeler, four of her children and a neighbor's child escaped without injury. So did the family cat, reports Deputy Chief Edwin Wickstrom.

Chief Wickstrom said that the closet was fully involved by the time the flames were discovered by Mrs. Wheeler.

By the time firemen arrived and got the fire under control, heat damage had become extensive throughout the house, but most particularly on the second floor. The closet where the fire started was on the ground floor.

Chief Wickstrom said he was unable to find out whether the five-year-old had told his mother about the fire.

He said the family cat appeared after the blaze had been put out, and was enthusiastically greeted by the youngsters who thought he might have become a casualty.

High School District Seeks Aid In Electronics Program Plan

Menlo - Atherton, Ravenswood and Woodside high school students will be among those selected to attend a high school electronics laboratory proposed for the Sequoia High School District, but it probably wont' be located at any of the south county schools.

This was indicated this week by Superintendent Dr. Rex Turner, who added that, at present, actual cost of such a building has not yet been discussed.

Dr. Turner's remarks came in the nature of a "progress report" on the district's response to a recent proposal made by the Lenkurt Foundation, Inc., of San Carlos, that it would provide lab equipment for a high school in the district.

Dr. Turner pointed out that at present the district is attempting to secure the services of someone who is acquainted with both high school teaching and with practical planning for a laboratory.

Such an individual has not yet been located, he said early this week, adding that the Foundation is going through its files and Stanford University and other educational institutions have been contacted.

"Setting up a course of study for such a new department would of itself be a matter of careful consideration for many months," Dr. Turner explained, "and in addition it must be done by a qualified person."

PURPOSES

Dr. Turner said that, in all likelihood, when and if the laboratory becomes a going concern, students there will be limited to two types:

1. Those taking college-preparatory courses aimed toward studies in electronic engineering, and

2. Those who don't plan to go to college, but hope to make careers in electronics as technicians.

Some impetus for the local program is provided, Dr. Turner explained, by the fact that the school district's board of trustees two years ago agreed that two present shops at Sequoia would be replaced.

The present shops do not meet the requirements of the Field Act, which requires earthquake-proof buildings.

Dr. Turner said that the replacement for one of the buildings could be the electronics lab.

The plan for the laboratory stated no figure, as to what the Lenkurt Foundation expected to provide. It said:

"1. Initiation of this program will be a joint operation of the Lenkurt Foundation and the Sequoia Union High School District. A committee consisting of about three Lenkurt people, together with designated representatives of the Sequoia Union High School District, could work together to define the housing and equipment facilities needed for the program.

"2. The laboratory is to be called the Lenkurt Electronics Laboratory. It is to be located on school district property and is to be operated as a coordinated part of the high school in which it is situated.

"3. The Sequoia Union High School District is to supply the supervision, utilities, and needed instruction over and above that supplied by the Lenkurt Foundation. The Foundation will furnish the initial equipment installation and operating costs other than utilities, together with laboratory assistance, materials and supplies for a period of three years.

"It is believed that the building costs should be borne by the Sequoia Union High School District since this will constitute capital improvement.

"However, it may be necessary to use part of the Foundation grant for this purpose if the schol district is unable to allocate a sufficient amount from its available funds."

He was a native of Mason, Texas.

Funeral services were conducted from the Johnston Colonial Mortuary here, with interment at Green Lawn Memorial Park in Colma.

Oscar S. Paulsen

Word has been received here of the death of Oscar S. Paulsen, who died in Paris, France, six weeks ago while on an extended foreign trip. Paulsen, who was 78, had resided in Atherton for 16 years prior to moving from that community four years ago.

The former Atherton resident retired eight years ago after a career as a bank executive. His last position was that of vice president of the San Francisco Bank; before that, he had been a branch manager and had been active in the development of the Haight-Ashbury district in San Francisco.

His banking career spanned some 40 years.

His Atherton home was at 49 Rittenhouse avenue.

Surviving him are his wife, Mrs. Esther Webb Paulsen and two sons, Frank and Victor Paulsen. Both sons make their homes in San Francisco; Mrs. Paulsen currently resides in Santa Cruz.

Memorial services were held last week from the chapel of Halsted and company in San Francisco. Interment was private.

Hudson Parker

Funeral services are pending for Hudson I. Parker, about 43, who died Tuesday at Palo Alto Hospital.

His wife is among those who survive him; other survivors were not known as the Recorder went to press.

Arrangements for services are being made at the chapel of Roller and Hapgood, 980 Middlefield road in Palo Alto.

John Thompson

Funeral services are to be held Friday afternoon for John Thompson, chief dairy inspector for the San Mateo County Board of Health, who died Dec. 1 in South San Francisco after a short illness. Thompson had made his home at 324 Oak court for the last 10 years.

A native of Denmark, he is survived by his wife, Julia, and a daughter, Judy, both of whom reside at the family address.

He had worked for the San Mateo county board of health for the past 10 years and prior to that time had been a dairy inspector for the San Francisco board of health.

The Rev. Theodore Johnstone of the First Lutheran Church of Palo Alto, will officiate at the funeral services which are to be conducted at 2 p.m. tomorrow from the chapel of Roller and Hapgood, 980 Middlefield road in Palo Alto.

Interment is to be at Golden Gate National Cemetery.

He earned it!

Sequoia Eduation Philosophy Outlined in Faculty Statement

A statement of "Educational Philosophy of the Sequoia High School District" recently was presented to the district's board of trustees, after several months of preparation by members of the district's faculty.

Superintendent Dr. Rex Turner said the document was drawn up, after several months work by a subcommittee of the council, the latter in charge of developing curriculum standards for the district.

"We believe that our schools exist for all the children of all the people, that we should provide for both the common and specialized educational needs of all pupils and that we should seek to create an environment which will encourage them," the statement begins.

"(It should encourage them) to acquire competence in the basic tools of learning —computation, reading, writing, listening and speaking; to reach their potential in academic learning and in vocational skill and to think critically and be guided by critical thought," the statement goes on.

"It should encourage them to develop respect for excellence, improve their physical and mental health practices, gain spiritual and moral values in keeping with increasing maturity," the statement goes on.

"It should also encourage them to employ intelligently the processes of buying and using goods and services, grow in appreciation of the arts, and understand the major facts and methods of science as well as its influence on mankind."

Other items which the statement said it felt the Sequoia High School District should encourage in pupils attending its schools were:

1. Growth of knowledge and understanding of the forces that have modified man's existence;

2. To select, train for and practice a suitable vocation;

3. Make honest use of working time and worthwhile use of leisure time;

4. Use responsibly the democratic processes in defining their rights and the discharge of their obligations.

Teachers, the statement went on, should as a general goal offer pupils the opportunity to develop the necessary skills, knowledge, understanding and attitudes for them to be effective persons, as members of the social groups in a democratic society and as citizens of the world.

The process of education is a life-long one, and the instruction program should encourage the student to regard it as such, the statement concludes.

GARDEN CLUB of the Menertons will have their Christmas party on Tuesday, December 16, at the home of Mrs. Robert G. Carpenter, 2110 Ward way, Woodside.

'Let right be done!'

WE are the more than 300 employees of the Macy's-owned Lasalle department store in Toledo, Ohio. We now face a second holiday season, a second year on the picket line in defense of our unions and our right to bargain collectively.

In the beginning, more than a year ago, we asked modest improvement in wages, welfare and working conditions. Our employer — a division of the giant R. H. Macy chain — replied with a frontal attack on our very right just to sit at the bargaining table — despite a history of 21 years of fair and usually friendly collective bargaining relations.

Ever since, down the long months, Macy's has evaded any obligation to bargain with our unions by a shameful legal device — a device which was labeled by President Eisenhower as "licensing union-busting", a device which has been unsparingly condemned by fair-minded management as well as labor, a device which on its face is plainly a union-smashing tool.

To this "union-busting" purpose, the R. H. Macy Co. can bring to bear the giant financial resources of one of the nation's largest retail chains — the resources of stores owned by it in cities clear across the land from New York to the Bay Area. The Macy's that operates a huge department store in or near your own community is the same employer who is trying to destroy our union in Toledo.

By its legal tactics, Macy's has made clear its union-busting intentions. Through its vast financial resources, it maintains an almost endless pressure to accomplish that purpose.

Our major resource in our fight to save our unions and regain our bargaining rights has been in the help of many thousands of fair-minded shoppers wherever Macy's does business.

Will you help us to win simple justice? You can — by refusing to shop at Macy's until right has been done.

GENERAL REGULATION NO. 52
A General Regulation Regulating the Charges to be Made Upon the Connection of Building Sewers in the Menlo Park Sanitary District, County of San Mateo, State of California.

Be it ordained and enacted by the Sanitary District Board of the Menlo Park Sanitary District, County of San Mateo, State of California, as follows:

ARTICLE I
GENERAL

Section 100. No connection shall be made to any public sewer, or to any sewer flowing into a public sewer within the Menlo Park Sanitary District, until there shall be paid to the District a connection charge, such charge to be in addition to charges for permits or inspections or the requirements of any other rule, regulation, or ordinance of the Menlo Park Sanitary District.

Section 101. The connection charge herein provided for shall apply only to uses proposed to be made of any sewer at the time the connection charge is collected. In the event additional or changed uses are made of the sewer, an additional connection charge shall be paid. Such charge shall be the connection charge for the use (as added to or changed) computed according to this regulation, less charges previously paid for said connection and less a sum equal to the charge for uses in existence before the effective date of this regulation. In no event, however, shall the District refund any connection charge or any part thereof.

Section 102. Amounts received by the Menlo Park Sanitary District pursuant to this General Regulation shall be deposited in a special fund to be designated "Construction Fund—Connection Fees" and shall be used only for purposes of capital improvements or for repayment of bond funds used for capital improvements to the Menlo Park Sanitary District system.

Section 103. Connection charges determined in accordance with this general regulation shall be made for all connections made on or after January 1, 1959.

Section 104. This regulation shall be reviewed not less often than annually and shall be placed on the agenda of the first regular meeting in October each year for this purpose.

ARTICLE II
RESIDENTIAL CONNECTIONS

Section 200. The connection charge for each residential connection used by one famil yunit shall be $105.00.

Section 201. If a single connection is made for use by more than one family unit, the connection charge shall be the product of $90.00 times the number of family units.

Section 202. Connection charges for rooming houses shall be computed in accordance with this Article II. In such instances the number of family units for the purpose of Section 201 shall be deemed to be one plus one-half the number of rooms for rent.

ARTICLE III
NON-RESIDENTIAL USES

Section 300. The connection charge for each non-residential use shall be $.55 per gallon of estimated average daily flow of sewage, but in no event shall be less than $105.00.

Section 301. The estimate of the daily flow of sewage for any proposed use shall be made by the District Manager or his representative. Any applicant for connection dissatisfied with the average daily flow estimated by the District Manager may appeal such determination to the District Board, who shall conduct a hearing thereon and establish the connection charge to be paid by the applicant.

ARTICLE IV

Section 400. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this General Regulation, the Sanitary District Board may add to or subtract from the charges set forth herein where special circumstances make it reasonable so to do, and may amend or repeal this Regulation in the manner prescribed by law.

Any persons found to be violating any provision of this regulation may be served by the District with written notice stating the nature of the violation and providing a reasonable time limit for the satisfactory correction thereof. The offender shall, within the period of time stated in such notice, permanently cease all violations.

Section 501. Any person found to be violating any provision of this regulation shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punishable by a fine of not more than $100 or imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not more than one month or both for each violation. Each day in which any such violation shall continue shall be deemed a separate offense.

Section 502. Any person violating any of the provisions of this regulation shall become liable to the District for any expense, loss, or damage occasioned the District by reason of such violation.

School Board Will Fill Trustee Post

Trusteees of the Ravenswood Elementary School District hope to appoint a fifth member to the board at the regular meeting next Monday, Dec. 8.

The new appointee will fill the vacancy created by the resignation last month of Francis W. Pearson Jr.

At next Monday's session, the trustees will also continue discussion on ways and means to qualify the district for monies under the state aid program. Superintendent Stanley O. Schnepple met yesterday with Dr. Rolph Lee of the state division of schoolhcuse planning, to discuss details of the program.

Schnepple reported last week that it may be able for the district to call for a lower bond issue than that anticipated to meet all building needs and, thereby, become eligible for state funds for remaining needs.

Total building needs of the district have an estimated cost of more than $700,000, according to the latest estimate of Architect William Keller.

They include eight new classrooms at Belle Haven School, and a new intermediate school

CORRECTION

The Recorder last week erroneously stated in a headline that the Palo Alto Unit of the Junior League of San Francisco, Inc., will move its new office to Menlo Park. Their new headquarters will be established on the grounds of the Menlo Circus Club, which is situated in Atherton.

Mortuary Here Changes Name

Name of the former Johnston and Tinney Colonial Chapel at 650 Live Oak avenue has been changed to Johnston Colonial Mortuary, it was announced this week by Howard V. Johnston, owner.

Johnston, who opened the mortuary seven years ago, said that a former association with the Tinney funeral homes in Palo Alto and Redwood City has been dissolved.

He is now sole proprietor of the local establishment.

Johnston resides with his wife and daughter at 836 Live Oak avenue.

The Tinney funeral home, which recently moved to new quarters at 555 College avenue in Palo Alto, has been in the ownership of that family since 1912.

COACH OF THE YEAR – Joe Marvin, Sequoia.
° Unanimous Choice.
°° Player of the Year.

HONORABLE MENTION—ENDS: Dave McDowell, Menlo-Atherton; Jeff Gardiner, Cubberley; GUARDS – Dennis Devine and Paul Thornton, Sequoia; CENTERS – Harry Adamson, Carlmont; Abe Bailey, Cubberley; BACKS –Walt Wright, Sequoia.

The 1958 All-South Peninsula Athletic League selections have been made—with Roger Patterson standing alone as Menlo-Atherton's representative on the first eleven.

The 199-pound senior tackle, co-captain and Most Valuable Player at M-A, was a unanimous first-team choice by area sportswriters, while senior end Dave McDowell of M-A received honorable mention.

The other All-League tackle, Sequoia's L. J. Hauss, was named Player of the Year.

Coach of the year is Joe Marvin, rookie mentor of the co-champion Sequoia Cherokees.

Unanimous choices for the coveted team positions, other than tackles Patterson and Hauss, were Sequoia's Bill Loftus, Carlmont's Don Bullivant, and Palo Alto's Bob Talbott.

Sequoia, finishing the year with an overall 8-2 mark and a first-place league tie with Cubberley (3-1), dominated the balloting with five places on the first team and three of the seven honorable mention positions.

Cubberley and Carlmont each placed two while Menlo-Atherton and Palo Alto had one man on the top eleven.

Sequoia's only league loss came in their seventh game, a 14-12 upset by Cubberley. The Cougars were jolted the following week in the season final by Menlo-Atherton, 7-6.

Eight seniors, six of them linemen, were named on the first team. Sequoia's sophomore sensation, Rich Koeper, was named the top center. Koeper, who stands 6'3" and weighs 205, is the biggest man on the team.

Two other centers, Abe Bailey of Cubberley and Harry Adamson of Carlmont, received honorable mention.

The backfield, with two Sequoia juniors, Rich Trammell and Don Weiseman, had only one unanimous choice in senior fullback Bob Talbott of Palo Alto.

DAVE McDOWELL
. . . Honorable Mention

Talbott was Paly's only vote-getting player as the Vikings finished in the cellar with an 0-3-1 mark.

The fourth back is bruising senior Bill Kutzer, Carlmont fullback. Kutzer was the dominating force in Carlmont's valiant bid for a mid-season upset over Sequoia, but the Scots lost 14-0 in the final two minutes of the game.

NO RETURNEES

The 1958 All-SPAL team has no returnees from last season's first team. Patterson, the shortest man on the All-Star squad at 5'9", is the only 1957 second teamer who improved enough to make this year's squad.

Conspicuous by their absence on this year's squad are 1957 first-teamers Chris Jessen of Carlmont and Jim Bishop of Cubberley.

Jessen was shifted from end to halfback by coach Paul Robinett for the 1958 campaign, and never found himself as a backfield standout.

Bishop was injured most of the season for Cubberley.

Bears Host Tall Los Altans Friday

Ready or not, Menlo-Atherton plays its first home basketball doubleheader tomorrow.

And invading the Bear gym will be one of the tallest groups of high school timber-toppers area fans will see this season.

Los Altos is the opponent, with a varsity five averaging 6'2", and that's with a pair of 5'10" guards!

The Bears, averaging just a quarter-inch over six feet, will be in their second game of the season. Coach Ayers' five met Mountain View Wednesday evening in the season opener.

Los Altos opened its season Tuesday at Burlingame, losing a 36-29 decision. The results of Wedensday evening's Mountain View-Menlo-Atherton contest were not known at Recorder press time.

Friday's varsity contest will begin at 3:30 p.m., with the B game following.

Leading the Los Altans, coached by Dude Angus, will be 6'4" forward Chip Pratt. Pratt, a senior, was a starting member of last season's team that finished the season with a near .500 mark.

At the other forward slot will be 6'5" Jim Kraus and center will be 6'5" John Henry. Kraus is a sophomore but the other four starters are experienced seniors.

Rick Wright and Dave McDowell, late-reporting football players, will open at the forward spots for M-A, with Doug Garner the probable starting center. Clive Hanson may also see action at the post.

Wright, at 6'3", will be the tallest Bear on the floor. Starting guards will probably be junior Paul Dallas and the 5'8" senior playmaker, Cliff Davis.

Other Bears who could possibly break into the starting lineup for tomorrow's fray are guard Ed Protiva and forward Ken Oksanen.

Coach Bill Loftus' B squad will send Lou Cryer and Frankie Lee out as starting guards and Roger Simrin at center.

Jon Peck, leading scorer for last season's B team, will open at one forward slot with Phil Huff, Jeff Buckingham or Norm MacKay slated for the other spot.

Other members of the B team are Mike Cottrell, Ed Gabrielson, Bob Hartman, Roger Lusch, Lee Shepardson and Bill Wright.

Lull Arrives as Grid Teams End Seasons, Basketball Takes Over

The lull has arrived.

After two hectic months of high school and college football action, mid-peninsula sports-life has suddenly taken a deep breath and settled down for a much slower-paced holiday season.

Fans in the area will be looking toward their television screens for the majority of entertainment until after Santa Claus has been here and gone (with no snow to aid his journey).

★ ★ ★ ★

Cagers Have Begun . . .

Basketball play has already begun, but the month of December is only the pre-season testing ground for SPAL and junior college quintets, with the red-hot league action starting after the holiday vacations.

Menlo-Atherton's basketballing Bears opened their season at Mountain View yesterday and will host Los Altos Friday in their first home game.

The loss of Don Pressley until mid-January via the scholastic ineligibility route has already dealt coach Ayers' squad a serious blow. Pressley's rebounding strength would have made the M-A boys a definite threat for the 1958-59 crown.

★ ★ ★ ★

If footballers Rick Wright and Dave McDowell can make up the backboard deficit, the Bears may still make a run for the title. Friday afternoon's action should give us an early preview.

★ ★ ★ ★

Final Backglance . . .

But before stepping into the budding cage season, we might take one last look at the 1958 football season.

Today's release of the All-SPAL selections will provide food for conversation in many circles, for it's certainly impossible to please everyone with all-star selections.

Ask Dick Bass or Joe Kapp, West Coast bread and butter men but only second-teamers on most All-America squads.

The SPAL season wasn't exactly an exciting one, with the calibre of overall play below seasons of past. And with only a five-team loop, an individual who missed one full league game found himself almost out of contention for all-SPAL consideration.

Such college prospects like Cubberley's Jim Bishop and M-A's Johnny Finegold are good examples.

And two-platoon football makes it tough too. M-A's Charlie Aparicio, Rick Wright, Larry Krenzin and Doug Christie turned in some excellent defensive performances this season in league play. But they were only one-way ball players.

Everyone can't be happy. Some top players who didn't make the all-league team but who certainly deserve credit are M-A's Ed Protiva, Cubberley's Shibun Tana, Palo Alto's Rich Malloch, Sequoia's Dick Ware and Carlmont stars John Woodhall and Steve Sears.

★ ★ ★ ★

Menlo Park's Mike Brennan, all-league lineman with Bellarmine's powerhouse for the past two seasons, has probably been the most "under-publicized" ballplayer in the area.

But Mike, named honorary tri-captain of this year's championship Bell eleven, may just be the top college prospect to leave the city limits next September.

★ ★ ★ ★

Seven-Team Loop . . .

So with the close of the 1958 grid season, fans who really are fans are already eyeing what should be an interesting seven-team league in 1959.

With Ravenswood and Woodside in the SPAL, a real dog-fight race should evolve. Sequoia will be ranked first, Ravenswood seventh and the other five according to prejudices, hunches and crystalballs.

Coach Vern Sterling of Woodside, incidentally, has already scheduled 1959 pre-league games with Mills and Westmoor. And he's looking for one more.

Holiday Cage Tourneys Set

Basketball season has arrived, and tournament time is drawing near.

Highlighting the agenda of holiday cage gatherings will be Palo Alto's second annual varsity tourney and Menlo-Atherton's second annual "B" invitational.

Both tourneys will be held Dec. 18-19-20, and at identical times for all of the sessions. Both tourneys are double-elimination affairs.

Pairings have been released and Menlo-Atherton fans will have a chance to see both the varsity and B team in action if they so desire.

The Bears open the Paly tourney Thursday, Dec. 18 at 4 p.m. against Bellarmine.

If coach Bob Ayers' five can get past the Bells they will meet the George Washington-Hillsdale winner, and from pre-season indications, George Washington will be the tournament favorite.

The Viking tourney will give South Peninsula Athletic League fans a preview of league strength, with Palo Alto, Menlo-Atherton and Cubberley representing three of the loop's five teams.

The second annual Class B Holiday Invitational at Menlo-Atherton again promises to produce top-flight action for three days. The host Bears, coached by

Dads Honor Bears:

Recorder Presents Athletic Endeavor Awards at M-A

Dave McDowell was named varsity football's recipient of the Menlo Park Recorder Athletic Endeavor Award last week, highlighting the annual Fall Dads Club Banquet at Menlo-Atherton High School.

The senior end was one of the seven M-A athletes at the dinner receiving the Endeavor Awards. C. A. (Cab) Burley, publisher of the Menlo Park Recorder, gave the awards. Medals were awarded to each individual and the athletes signed their names in awards register that remains on display at the M-A gym.

Other winners were:

Sophomore football: Bill Summers.

Frosh football: Russ Henry.

Varsity water polo: Bill Lorton.

Frosh-Soph water polo: Bill Racine.

C Basketball: Ken Hadden.

D Basketball: John Curti.

Lorton was a double winner at the banquet, as he also received the Nicholas Nugent Teamwork Award for varsity water polo.

Dan Innes was the frosh-soph water polo award winner and Will Oda won the teamwork award for C basketball.

In D basketball, Bob Guglielmetti and Dick Kelly shared the teamwork award honor.

Recipients of the teamwork award for varsity and frosh-soph football will be announced at the Rotary Recognition luncheon Dec. 10.

In other awards made at the Tuesday night banquet, senior tackle Roger Patterson was named Most Valuable Player on the varsity football team.

Rog was the only Bear to make first-team all-SPAL this season.

Senior fullback Ed Protiva, in his first year of football competition, was named the varsity football team's "Most Improved," while Patterson and senior end Dave McDowell were named honorary co-captains for the year.

Gene Kumagi was named frosh-soph football's Most Valuable Player and John Carter the Most Improved. Rick Cattich was Most Valuable and Bob Luccini was Most Improved for the frosh gridders.

Moffett Dumps Menlo In Opener, 58-52

Moffett Field's Flyers started Menlo College's basketball season off on a dismal note Tuesday, whipping the inexperienced Oaks 58-52 in a rough and tumble affair in Menlo's gym.

It was the season opener for both teams, and ragged floor play turned the contest into anything but a smooth-functioning contest.

The Oaks travel to Contra Costa tomorrow night for an 8 p.m. contest and return home to host Stanford's JV five Saturday night at 8 p.m.

The lead changed hands nine times in Tuesday's game, with Menlo in contention all the way. They led 42-41 with nine minutes to play, but fell behind seconds later and never quite caught up.

Both coaches were disappointed in the calibre of the contest, especially with the way officials handled a new rule interpretation concerning body contact on a drive-in.

The new interpretation, put into effect only this year, gives a definite advantage to the defensive man.

Guards Fred "Corky" Pegelow and John Polhemus played fine games for Menlo, but both were banged to the floor several times on drive-in attempts. Moffett's star guard, Wayne Tuell, was also jarred on several occasions.

"Our guys will get killed," said coach Bob Wuesthoff after the game. "All the defensive man has to do under this new rule is step in front of a driver at the last second — and charging is called. Both of my guards are fine drivers, but what good is it doing them?"

Pegelow, All-SPAL at Menlo-Atherton High School last season, led Oak scorers in the contest with 16 points. Polhemus, with a great clutch shooting performance in the last half, finished the night with 12.

The Oaks chalked up a respectable .346 shooting percentage from the field, hitting on 21 of 61 attempts. Moffett scored on 24 of 64 for .375.

The Flyers were cold from the field for 17 minutes of the first half and with only 2:50 remaining, they held a slim 22-20 lead.

But Wayne Tuell, a stocky hot-tempered guard with a shooting eye to match his disposition, sparked his teammates in a torrid two-minute scoring spree, as the Flyers hit six of their last nine first-half shots.

Tuell hit three of the six, and Moffett held a 28-23 halftime lead. He finished the evening as high scorer for both ball clubs with 19 points.

The Flyers looked as if they were going to make a runaway of the contest early in the second half, taking a 36-29 lead. But Pegelow scored five straight points on a pair of beautiful drive-ins and a free throw to narrow the margin to 36-34.

Two straight left-handed hook shots by Bob Michael kept Moffett out in front, however, and they led 47-45 with 7:30 showing on the clock.

Tuell put the icing on the cake within the next minute, however, netting a pair of free throws and a driving hook, giving the Navy men a 52-47 margin.

Pegelow hit a jumper from 20 feet to pull the Oaks to 54-40 with 2:30 remaining but set-ups by Joe Johnson and Tuell in the final minutes kept Moffett on top.

Coach Wuesthoff, with five new men this season, used a five-out offense with no pivot man. Menlo's tallest man, Mike Cooper, worked from deep in the left corner.

Moffett only out-rebounded the Oaks 35-32, but Menlo was especially weak on their offensive boards.

The Oaks started the contest with Pegelow and Polhemus at guards, Cooper at center and Ron McMurray and Neil Parkin at forwards. Only two reserves, John Coleman and Bob Peckheiser, saw action.

Ellis Rushed 616 Yards in 6 Acorn Games

Bob Ellis, Menlo School's halfback bombshell this past season, gained more yards than the rest of the Acorn team combined rushing, with a six-game total of 616.

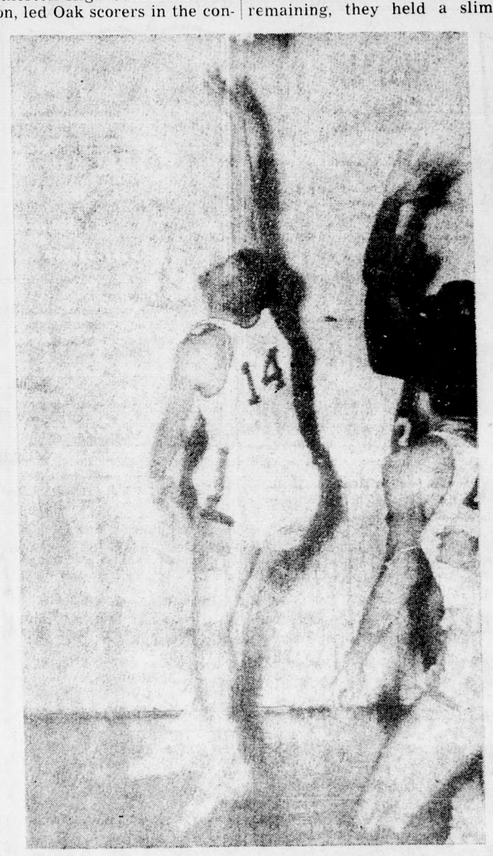

According to unofficial statistics released last week by the Menlo School newspaper, Oak and Acorn, Ellis rambled his 616 in only 68 carries for a 9.0 per carry average.

He also led the team in scoring with 11 touchdowns for 66 points.

Mark Warner was Menlo's leading pass receiver, snagging five for 145 yards and four touchdowns.

Leading passer for the club was sophomore Butch McCormack, who aerialed 15 completions in 46 attempts and tossed six TD passes. McCormack totaled 350 yards through the air.

Coach Bill Wyman's eleven surprised the Bay Counties Athletic League this year with a 5-1 mark and second place in the league.

Wrestling Season Underway

At Menlo-Atherton:

The other half of Menlo-Atherton's winter (?) sports program is well under way this week, as Sam Lujonga's grunt n' groan wrestlers are preparing for their first 1958 match.

The Bear squad will be out to defend its championship crown earned last season when they won seven SPAL matches without a loss. First contact for the team will be Dec. 13 at Carlmont in the SPAL invitational. League play opens on Thursday, Dec. 18 and will resume after the holidays.

Lagonja has eight returning lettermen from last year's squad, including league champions Mike Topham and Dan Hack and NCS section champ Doug Catchings.

Other returning vets are Angelo Butera, Roland Kumagi, Charles Yannacone, Dick Costello and Gary Garabedian.

Rated as top prospects at this stage of the season by Lugonja are the following nonlettermen:

Arlan Kertz, Bill Hammerton, Paul Hertzman, Bill Hunker, Ed Le Claire, John Nash, Phil Russell, Russell Banducci, Damon Miller, Bill Summers, Darrell Martin, Greg Fisher, Bob Hayes and George Brown.

Over 80 boys turned out for the sport several weeks ago. M-A will also floor a freshman team this year that will compete against junior high school teams.

This year's league title will be decided on the strength of six matches, as the SPAL will have only a single round of play. Ravenswood and Woodside are competing on the varsity level, although neither is expected to field a strong team in their first year.

Sour Grapes?

SPORTS QUOTE OF THE WEEK—from Hartnell College public relations director George Abbott, Salinas, Calif.:

"After being snubbed by the Junior Rose Bowl and Potato Bowl, several Hartnell College football players were expected to turn their attention toward basketball this week."

At Woodside:

Lots of familiar names to Woodside football fans may be popping up again this winter, and thats' fine with wrestling coach Vern Sterling.

Sterling, who is also head football coach at the new high school, has recruited quite a few of the gridders to the mats. Leading the pack is a fleet junior halfback who may turn out to be a real top-notch wrestler, Dick Smith.

"Smith and Walt Takahaski are our best," said Sterling this week. "But they're both little." Smith will work in either the 127 or 133-pound class, while Takahaski is a 103-pounder."

The Cats open their season Tuesday, Dec. 9 against Ravenswood in a practice match. The match will be held at Woodside.

Woodside's squad numbers 36, of which 10 have some experience gained last year at Menlo-Atherton.

Biggest man on Woodside's squad is junior Larry Jordan and his 278 pounds may make him the biggest wrestler in the league.

Jordan has no experience in either football or wrestling and he did not play the grid sport this fall. But Sterling has other ideas about next September.

Outside of the varsity SPAL schedule Woodside has practice matches with Carlmont, Cubberley, South San Francisco, and Sterling is working on others.

At Ravenswood:

"We're heavy in the lightweights—but really light in the heavyweights."

This statement isn't meant to be a brain puzzler or tongue twister—just the state of wrestling affairs at Ravenswood High School.

"Since we have no senior class," continued head coach Norm Manoogian this week, "we're really weak in the heavy weight divisions. But we've got quite a few little guys."

The Trojans will lock horns with Woodside's equally inexperienced Wildcats Tuesday, Dec. 9, in the first practice match of the season for both teams.

Ravenswood has a 36-man squad and this week coach Manoogian has elimination wrestling to find out just who is toughest in his weight divisions.

The Trojans will be entered in all of the 12 weight divisions on the varsity level in the SPAL this season, but Manoogian has not scheduled any practice matches outside of the single round league play.

"I think practicing and learning holds will be more important to the boys this first year," said Manoogian. "All of them are inexperienced but six or seven and we'll take enough lumps in SPAL play."

CAGE CLINIC TONIGHT

A basketball clinic for seventh and eighth grade youngsters of Woodside Elementary School will be held tonight at 7:30 p.m.

Bill Guttormson, head basketball coach at the new Woodside High School, will head the clinic, and will feature drills using a group of collegiate players and five boys from the present Woodside JV team.

Guttormson, former University of San Francisco standout, hopes to hold other clinics this year at other Menlo Park area elementary schools.

Sequoia Drubs Woodside, 42-25:

Wildcats Look for First Cage Win at Carlmont Saturday

Woodside's Wildcats take to the hardwood for their fourth game of the infant 1958 basketball season at Carlmont Saturday afternoon when they tangle for the Scot Jayvees in a 2 p.m. encounter.

Coach Bill Guttormson's squads opened play last week with games against Capuchino, Serra and Sequoia JV teams.

Neither the JVs or Bs are entered in SPAL competition this season, but will enter on the regular B and varsity level next year.

Against Sequoia's JVs Tuesday, freshman Dick Burke canned nine points in a losing cause at the Cats dropped their third straight, 42-25.

Guard Dave Drotar tallied 14 for the Woodside Bs, leading them to a 43-28 victory over Sequoia's frosh in the second game.

At Serra in a single game last Saturday, the Cats were buried 35-14, scoring only two field goals in the contest and four points in the entire second half.

Guttormson mixed his JVs and Bs for the game, with B standout Dick Crawford taking high point honors with four. Mattos led the winners with 11.

Crawford, along with Tom Sturgiss, Cliff Brandt and Bud Smith were members of this fall's C quintet at the hilltop, and are actually playing their second straight season of basketball.

Forwards Crawford and Sturgiss have shown well enough to make the first five on the 30s ball club, along with guards Ron Bush and Dave Drotar. Playing hosts for the Cats is hook-shooting John De Gracia.

Other members of the 30s team are Tom Brandenburger, Ted Johnson, Tim Johnson, John Morton, Bud Smith, and Doug Wilson. Manager is Dennis Samanski.

Woodside opened its season well ahead of other mid-peninsula fives Nov. 24, with a pair of contests against Capuchino at Millbrae.

The Jayvees scored two field goals in the final two minutes of play to tie the score, but were beaten on a Capuchino basket in the final 46 seconds, 23-21.

The Bs won their opener, 27-22.

Sophomore football star Dennis Brock showed his cage talents by leading the JV five with six points. De Gracia led the triumphant Bs with eight.

Starters on the JV club are Brock at center, sophomore Al Rollins and Junior Joe Lopez at forwards, freshman Dick Burke at guard, and three other fighting for the other guard position.

Only Brock and Rollins stand over six feet, and the Cats will be outsized in most of their games this year. Many of the cagers were playing football until two weeks ago, and have not had time to learn Guttormson's patterns.

Other members of the team are guards Walt Koslosky, Henry McGuire, and Tom Pelio. Another top frosh prospect is Gary Thurston, but he is recovering from a leg injury received in football.

Other squad members are Russell DeKruse, Chris Mattson, Steve Peck, Bob Shelsta, Bruce Wildenhus and manager Ron Werner.

The basketballs were bouncing at Menlo Park's Burgess gym Tuesday, as the Ravenswood Trojans took the floor for their first JV and B basketball contests in the history of the school.

And before the evening was over, the inexperienced Trojans had made about every error invented—and they coined a few new ways to lose the ball in the process.

But things went just about as coach Tom Crane had predicted, and the results were far from disappointing. The Cranemen had had only a few full-scale practices before Tuesday, and they have much to learn.

They started their education with a bang Tuesday, dropping a sloppily-played contest to a bigger and deeper Mills squad from Millbrae, 41-28.

In the "B" game, Crane's quick-moving, fast-breaking lads fought every inch of the way before losing a 37-36 heartbreaker on a Mills lay-in with only 10 seconds remaining.

The Trojans step to the firing line again tomorrow night at Hayward, when they will face Tennyson in a doubleheader to dedicate the new high school's gymnasium.

Crane will probably stick with his same starting lineups, although both of his teams may be strengthened by boys who were absent Tuesday. Each of the clubs had one starter out of action.

A FRIGID .169

Using only a simple one-man-post pattern (sometimes) and a no-pattern-at-all fast break (most of the time), Crane's varsity threw up 65 shots and connected on only 11 Tuesday, for a frigid .169 percentage.

Only in the first and final periods did the Trojans stay even with Mills, while falling far behind in the second and third periods.

With five minutes remaining in the fourth quarter, a final Trojan bid pulled them within eight points, 32-24.

But Mills bounced back with six straight points to ice it.

SLOPPY DEFENSE

Contributing more to the opening loss than any one factor was a sloppy defense thrown up by the Trojans. They pressed throughout the contest, with small frys Lefty Jarrett and Jim Mosely chasing the ball-handlers.

But Mills repeatedly worked the ball through the press for easy lay-ins.

Offensively, the patternless Trojans were led in scoring by Vernon Jones. The six-foot junior, a right-hander who shoots off the wrong foot, sank five of 13 attempts and garnered one free throw for 11 points. He also pulled down 10 rebounds.

Guards Jim Mosely and Lefty Jarrett played the roles of riflemen for the Cranemen, but bulls-eyes came few and far between. Combined, the two court shooters hit on only five of 44 shots.

Playing a fine game on both boards for Ravenswood was junior Earl Johnson. He led both teams in rebounding with 16, while scoring four points on free throws.

While the first game was a show of sloppy defense, poor shooting and wild floor play, the B game was a sharper, quicker contest and gave the few fans in Burgess gym plenty of thrills.

Leading the Trojans was a polished junior, Alphonzo Jackson.

Jackson connected for 15 points to lead Ravenswood scorers for both games, hitting six field goals in 19 shots.

Also turning in a fine performance was 14-year-old sophomore center Tim Johnson. The slim six-footer picked off 10 rebounds and scored six points.

After trailing 11-5 at the quarter-pole and 19-13 at halftime, Crane's pressing squad pulled to a 27-27 third quarter deadlock.

The lead changed hands seven times in the hectic fourth stanza, with neither team taking more than a two-point advantage.

With Ravenswood trailing 35-34 with only 25 seconds remaining before the final gun, Trojan Mike Phelan intercepted a pass at mid-court and drove in for what looked like the winning bucket.

Behind 36-35 with the clock ticking away, Mills shot and missed. But instead of stalling like coach Crane was yelling for them to do from the bench, the excited Trojans fired three more wild shots at the bucket in the final 20 seconds—even though they held a one-point lead.

The third wild shot was rebounded by Mills' Mort Abraham, who dribbled the length of the court and sank a set-up with 10 seconds remaining.

Before Ravenswood could get off another shot, the horn sounded and Mills had eked past, 37-36.

The California Gardener:

Check Your Calendar—Roses Are Just Around the Corner

Look around the next corner of your calendar and you'll find it's nearly bare-root rose season again.

Seems unlikely, doesn't it? Especially with a few roses still showing us why some Californians have roses at Christmas.

But it's true nonetheless, and if you plan to plant some of the new introductions you had best start preparing now. Two new All-America roses — a Grandiflora and a Floribunda —plus a bumper crop of other outstanding varieties are in store for you.

First order of business now is to survey your present bed of roses. Few rose gardeners in the world are satisfied with all the varieties they have. If one is a shy bloomer or prone to mildew and disease in your particular garden, pull it out and burn it.

If you've just plain lost interest in an old variety, dig it out and give it to a friend. But do it now so the ground will be ready to accept a new plant when the time comes.

After pulling out a rose, remove some of the old soil and add new. Work liberal amounts of peat moss in to impart the slightly acid condition a rose likes. Do this when the soil isn't soggy from a recent rain, or you will tend to compact it instead of conditioning it.

If you soil is loose now, you will do well to set a supply of it aside in a dry place so that it will be workable at planting time and capable of filling in around the bare roots without leaving air pockets. Use boxes or a spare garbage can to store soil.

Finally, check with your local member of the California Association of Nurserymen to see pictures of the new varieties he will be offering. Ask him whether or not you will have to order plants now to make sure you get them when you want them.

It's an unhappy gardener, indeed, who plans to plant a favorite new variety only to find that the supply was limited and all sold out.

* * *

GARDENER'S CHECKLIST

House plants benefit from occasional "showers" to wash collected dust off the leaves. A simple way to manage this is to put the plant right in the bath tub and syringe the foliage.

You can start pruning grape vines now. If in doubt as to the method, ask your nurseryman.

Check supports of tree roses to make sure neither ties nor stakes have rotted. The bushes won't support themselves in a bad wind or rain.

November and December are months to mulch with manure and to work bone meal into the soil. Both are slow acting and will be worked in by rains through the winter.

Keep planting perennials. Annuals such as snapdragons and stocks can be planted now for a big head start on your spring color show. All evergreen shrubs and trees can go in now.

APPOINTED IN LADERA

Mrs. Jackie Lawson has replaced Mrs. Sammie Woolley as co-chairman of the public service and planning committee of the Ladera Community Association, it was announced this week by Ray Cruikshank, president. Bill Spangle is the holdover co-chairman.

'Venus Observed' Opens 3-Day Run

Christopher Fry's witty and sophisticated comedy, "Venus Observed," is being given by the Stanford Players on Dec. 4, 5 and 6, evenings at 8:15 in Memorial Auditorium on campus.

The play, which contrasts the varieties of conventional and unconventional love, concerns an English duke, a widower, who decides to choose a bride from a long list of former mistresses.

Jim Freiburger has been cast as the Duke of Altair, Ellen Kay as Perpetua, John A. Baker as Reedbeck, Nancy Jo Sweeney as Rosabel, Kathleen Duffy as Jessie, Polly Fitch as Hilda, John McDaniels as Edgar, Sam Reis as Dominic, W. R. Brunner as Reddleman and Dan McCall as Bates.

The play is being directed by A. D. Sensenbach of Menlo Park, with settings by Richard Hay, costumes by Larry Wismer, and lighting and sound by Paul Landry. Stage manager is Catherine A. Means.

Tickets priced at $1.25 and $1.75 are on sale at Memorial box office, DA 3-0665 weekday afternoons between 12:30 and 4:30; Peninsula Box Office, DA 2-2122, or Carlson's book store, DA 6-7632.

Yulesing at Menlo College

The third event of the 1958-59 Menlo College Community Program will be the "Yulesing" held in the auditorium of the Florence Moore Science and Engineering building on the college campus at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 10.

The program, free to students and residents of the area, will include numbers by the Glee clubs of Menlo College and by the band and novelty groups.

—Recorder photo

Members of the immediate families and friends gathered last week at the Messiah Lutheran Church in Redwood City to witness the marriage of Judith Lynne Spears, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Spears of Palo Alto, to Larry C. Jennings of Atherton.

The 3 p.m. ceremony was conducted by Pastor Sennot and the bride was given in marriage by her father.

TULLE AND LACE

The lace bodice of the gown featured a high neckline accented with a small tie and the full skirt was fashioned of tulle with accents of matching lace. She wore a mantilla of amtching lace and carried a bouquet of lily of the valley and white orchids with satin streamers.

Linda Spears served as maid of honor and her sister's sole attendant. She was attired in a ballerina length gown of royal blue satin and a white net hat. She carired a bouquet complimenting her ensemble.

Standing with Larry, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clement Jennings of Atherton, was his brother, Thomas.

Large standards of white stock and chrysanthemums decorated the wedding scene.

MOTHERS' GOWNS

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Spears wore a blue wool dress and brown accessories. Mrs. Jennings, the benedict's mother, was attired in a lace gown of slate blue and complimented her ensemble with a matching flower hat and matching accessories.

For her wedding trip, Judith changed to a shantung sheath dress in a turquoise and grey print with matching accessories and wore a white fur coat.

The affair will be combined with the annual Christmas party of the group.

The recognition tea held each year during the Christmas season for the volunteers of the Southern San Mateo County Chapter of the American Red Cross has been scheduled for Wednesday, December 10, at the chapter house in Menlo Park.

Volunteers are needed to aid the Gray Ladies of the Southern San Mateo County Chapter of the American Red Cross with the regular Thursday evening social parties held at the Veterans' Hospital in Menlo Park.

Mrs. A. G. Pinetti, night chairman for the Gray Lady group, has asked for more women to help with the activities from 7 to 8:30 p.m. which are held for approximately 75 men in Ward 17.

During the evening, dancing and community singing is scheduled on the program and refreshments are served. Mrs. Pinetti states that those who have availed themselves of this chance to have fun and be of service at the same time have always found it rewarding and stimulating. However, at the present time, the need for women to serve in this group is acute because several have moved away or have other commitments, so that the group is too small to function properly."

Those women who are interested in meeting the present need are asked to contact the Red Cross chapter house, EM 6-3851 or Mrs. Pinetti, EM 9-3686.

Jon Collins Claims Bride In Texas Rites

MR. AND MRS. JON PAUL COLLINS
—Pierce photo

Jon Paul Collins, son of Pauline P. Collins of Menlo Park and John S. Collins of Los Angeles, claimed Mary Janet Racine of Fort Bliss, Texas, as his bride in a military ceremony last month.

The young couple exchanged vows on November 8 at Saint Michael's Chapel in Fort Bliss. The bride was escorted to the altar by her father, Master Sergeant Donald J. Racine and Father Kane performed the 11:30 a.m. ceremony.

WEDDING GOWN

For her marriage, Mary Janet chose a full length gown of lace and net over white satin. The fitted bodice of the gown was fashioned with a square neckline and long pointed sleeves. The full skirt was designed with tiers of lace and net.

Her fingertip veil of white net edged with matching lace was held by a small seed pearl and lace crown and she carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Cira Serria served as maid of honor and Joyce Racine, sister of the bride was the junior brtidesmaid. Jimmy and Cathy Racine, Mary Janet's younger brother and sister, were the flower girl and boy during the ceremony.

The maid of honor was attired in a floor length gown in a turquoise shade, and the junior bridesmaid wore a matching gown of pale pink. Cathy wore a ballerina frock in a pink shade.

Standing with Jon as best man was Theodore Bohnet. Seating the guests in the church were Kenneth Racine, brother of the bride, and Joe Upton.

Paul Deshroshera was the soloist during the wedding nuptials.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the NCO club on the Army base. White flowers and candles decorated the scene and 75 guests were in attendance.

Mrs. Racine, mother of the bride, greeted the guests wearing a dark green print gown, and Mrs. G. H. Presson of Evanston, Ill., Jon's grandmother, wore a suit in a lavender shade.

The bride is a graduate of Burgess High School in Fort Bliss and her husband is an alumnus of Menlo-Atherton High School. Currently, Jon is stationed at Fort Bliss in the Nike-Hercules maintenance department.

The newly married couple are now making their home in El Paso.

What's Doing Among Menlo's Teen-Agers

By BETH WYATT DA 5-8528

From 7 p.m. until 1:30 a.m.—that was the extent of Carol Leihy's party. About 50 people arrived at the Leihy home on November 21 for a turkey dinner, dancing, TV watching, and tape recorder hiding. (The record player was too loud so it was about the only thing recorded on the tape.)

Also on Friday, November 21, Peggy Twist held a party. It started out with a scavenger hunt and ended up with dancing. Having much fun were Carolina Pittman, Stan Sayles, Wendy Pratt, Gary Holtum, Diane Diegelman, Roger Postlewaite, Deanne Estes, Ray Long, Marleen Allan, Doug Morton, Nancy Hawkins, Bruce Forsythe, Paulette Gove, Dick Bonito, Dottie Carr, Charlie Aparicio, Carolyn Rundell, Dick Rowe, Chuck Yanacone, Kathy Barry, Diane Girard, Estreta DeVivo, Marie Koffman, Peggy Twist and Tom Mealy, and others.

WATER POLO PARTY

Another party on Friday night was held by the jubilant M-A water polo team. After winning the crown the boys decided they should celebrate. The big event was held at Don Benjamin's home. It was held from 8 p.m. utnil 8 a.m. They were quoted as saying brilliantly, "We had a GREAT time!" The water poloists there were Stan Gordon, Bob Kaldveer, Jimmy Niven, Roger Johnston, Jim Kirkman, Frank Peavee, Ralph Pattison, Doug Hancock and Rex Jones.

Now for the night before "turkey day."

Many people came home from college to give thanks with their families. Among these was Linda Matson, who is attending Willamette U in Oregon. What could be better than giving Linda a party. So that's precisely what happened. Welcoming her home were Jane Luna, Carol Jean Cronk, Mary Beth Cronk, Gayle Stephenson, Carolyn Bliss, Penny West, Judy Matson, Lynda Scott (who is attending Cal.), Anne Thomas, Sue Platt, Lisa Nohr, Sharon O'Brien, Gayle Sullivan, Sue Larson, Penny Sewell, Sally Tuttle, Mike Fallon, Dennis Cox, Mac Chase, Jeep Jones, Mark Healy, Jay Wyatt, Arden Jones, Roger Johnston, Jack Sorrentino, Neil Cooperrider, Seth Armstrong, Bruce Hammerman, Cliff Scott, Chuck Ott. Over in one corner of the room there was a rolling game of tiddlywinks going on, played with poker chips and a pie pan, in the next room was a contest to see who could stick the most rubber darts on the ceiling (Who said juvenile? It's really a "feat!") Dancing, pizza, soft drinks, and a camera-crazy father made the evening from 8 p.m. until 12:30 a.m. complete.

Also on November 26 Judy Norcott held a casual get-together. From 8 p.m. until 11 p.m. the people danced and chatted. They were Judy Norcott, Steve Horton, Linda Davis, Dave Doerflinger, Pam Barbe, Mark Hutchinson, Nancy Catlin, Walker Williams, Ken Tietz, Dave Wyman, and Terry Peterson.

On Friday, November 28, Bill Ready held a party from 8:30 until midnight. The people danced and toured the Readys' "fabulous" house. There to help eat up turkey and tuna fish sandwiches were Bill Ready, Sally Thurman, Bonnie Drury, Tom Healy, Nancy Catlin, Walker Williams, Julia Niven, Jim Holland, Judy Norcott, Steve Horton, Cindy Fraley, Ed Gabrielson, Sue Larson, Dan Ennis, Terry Peterson, Judy Vandewater, Bill Summers and Ken Tietz.

Lynn Larson is home from the hospital after an operation on his shoulder. A quick recovery, Lynn!

Sequoia beat Paly in their annual Thanksgiving game by a score of 27 to 2. This is the first time Sequoia has beaten Paly since 1952.

Heres' hoping we all pull through dead week!

AN SPAL conference was held at Sequoia on Saturday, November 8. The schools participating were Carlmont, Sequoia, Cubberley, Palo Alto and Woodside. Attending were the class presidents, the commissioners, the representatives of the student court, and members of the board of welfare. The session opened at 9 a.m. for registration and then there was a tour of the school. Following brunch there was an assembly at which the principal of Ravenswood spoke. The listeners broke up into "buzz groups" in which they discussed the speech. After the turkey lunch they went back into their respective groups and discussed questions that came up concerning the running of a school, etc. Last there was a general assembly at which everything was very neatly summarized. All had fun together seeing their old friends and making new ones.

CHIT - CHAT and sewing group of the Menertons will not meet in December.

Searching for new Christmas gift ideas? For something new and different, handmade items in good taste always top the list. You'll have fun looking over the wide variety of articles you can knit yourself at ETHEL ACHARD'S YARN SHOP. Yarns in all shades and types come complete with instructions in the many "kits" available. Fun to give and fun to receive, these kits enable you to make stuffed toys, caps, sweaters and other items.

For the teenager or ski set, why not make one of the Pom Pom caps? These attractive caps will keep heads and ears warm in the coldest weather, and yet are flattering to the most discriminating person. Plan one for each skiier on your list; they'll praise your imagination and ability, too. The cap is made of soft, yet strong, Cuddlespun yarn and the directions are so easy, you will want to make several. The kit sells for only $1.19 and will provide you with many minutes of enjoyment. You'll marvel at your own creativeness.

Also available are kits for Quickpoint pictures. If you are planning something in the "house furnishing" line for someone on your gift list, consider these unusual yet handsome needlepoint-type pictures. The design and colors are printed right on the canvas for easy instruction and the design can be easily followed with quick and easy stitches. Even the young ones in the family will love to make any one of the gay patterns.

For the family room, living room, or a child's room, there are many different designs from which to choose. Some of those available are. "Still Life with Butterfly," "Madonna in Stained Glass," "Toy Soldier with Drum," "Happy Clown," "Hyacinth," "Wynken, Blynken and Nod" and "Jack and Jill." Priced from a low $2.49 up, you'll have fun making several for your friends and yourself.

Ski sweaters are always in favor, even if you seldom get to the "slopes." Drop in to see the many unusual and beautiful patterns and kits available at Ethel Achard's.

A gift always in good taste and of endless enjoyment for anyone on your Christmas list is The Holy Bible. THE ANGELUS has many beautiful Missals from which to choose. For the children, there is St. Joseph's Children's Missal, and for adults there are missals in handsomely grained leathers, in either red or black. Whatever your budget, you'll find one to suit your price range.

If you haven't as yet chosen your Christmas cards, now is the time to do so. The Angelus has hundreds from which to choose, all beautifully executed and especially designed to say "Merry Christmas" in the warmest and nicest way possible. The various scenes depict The Nativity, stained glass and church scenes, beautiful and mischeivious angels, and many children's scenes.

Children are always anxious for Christmas to arrive. To help them "count" the days, select one of the beautiful large cards designed with "windows" for them to open each day. Behind each window as they open it is the number of days left until Christmas. They are gaily decorated and will provide your children with great enjoyment.

During the holiday season, music becomes even more prominent and rewarding. Before you gather your family around the piano for those Yuletide songfests, be sure to get a copy of "Trapp's Family Book of Christmas Songs." You'll love having all the favorite Christmas season songs and hymns and this beautiful book, for both voice and piano, will bring you pleasure all through the year. It sells for only $3.50.

Decorating the house for the holidays is always exciting, and there are many wonderful suggestions for you in "The Book of Christmas Decorations." Your whole family will have fun exploring the many possibilities in this imaginative book. To make it fun and easy, get a copy today for only $3.95.

Other items to be found at The Angelus, timely to the season, are the many figurines, and beautifully carved Nativity scenes, which also come in a variety of porcelain and china, to decorate your table, mantlepiece, or to place beneath the Christmas tree.

The inspiring "Story of Pope Pius XII" is now available at this store. This beautiful book tells of the life, work and reign of the late Pontiff and also tells of his church, his city, and the Popes he followed.

Nativity Bazaar Slated

A "shopping center" designed particularly for children will be a highlight of the annual Christmas Bazaar of the Church of Nativity. A wide selection of gifts and articles especially to suit a child's pocketbook, is the feature of the bazaar. Hand puppets, Santa Claus pillows and stuffed dolls wil be among the articles to be sold, according to Mrs. Edward Harrington and Mrs. Patrick Moran.

The plant booth, under the direction of Mrs. Charles Vocke, will be dominated by plants and foliage apropos to the holiday season.

The toy shop, according to Mrs. William Eggleston and Mrs. Jack Coffey, will be dominated by hobby horses, building blocks and shirts with school names. Also on display will be many types of Christmas decorations, wreathes pine cone and candle holders, angels and Santa Claus figures. Original designs for mantle and table decor will also be a feature. Mrs. Walter Healy is chairman of th toy department.

Coffee and hot rolls will be served at the hospitalily booth under the chairmanship of Mrs. J. L. Buckingham.

The "Money Tree" at the bazaar will be in charge of Mrs. John McManus and Mrs. James Craft, and decorations for the affair are being arranged by Don James and his staff.

The public is invited to attend. The affair will be held on Saturday, December 6, and Sunday, December 7. Hours for Saturday are from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday's hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.
